Military Shifts Defense Plans

Emphasize Antimissile Weapons

WASHINGTON (AP) — U. S. military planners have decided to shift emphasis in continental defense from antiaircraft to antimissile weapons, the Senate Armed Services Committee was told Friday.

The new master defense plan, as explained to the committee by Pentagon officials, proposes stepped-up spending on the Army's Nike-Zeus project. The Nike-Zeus, still years away from perfection, is intended to intercept oncoming intercontinental ballistic missiles.

While boosting the antimissile program, the new plan means less money for the Army's Nike-Hercules and the Air Force's Bomarc — missiles capable of downing bombers but too slow to cope with 18,000-miles-an-hour ballistic missiles.

Endorses Change

Chairman Richard B. Russell (D-Ga), endorsing the changed emphasis, said the Defense Department wants to spend an added 157 million dollars on the missile-killing Nike-Zeus. Russell did not say just when, but presumably this money would be allocated soon.

As for the Hercules and the Bomarc, Russell said they would take a reduction of about 152 million dollars over the next year, with an eventual cutback totaling about 1½ billion dollars. He did not say over what length of time the over-all cut would be spaced.

The Army and Air Force have been squabbling over the relative merits of the Hercules and the Bomarc. Both weapons were retained—but both took a cut—in the revised defense plan, which came after prodding from Congress and President Eisenhower.

Quell Rivalry

Although one aim of the plan was to quell the interservice missile rivalry, Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy indicated skepticism that it would work that way.

"I do not think that Utopia will ever come," McElroy told newsmen during a midday break in the secret session with the committee.

Russell was more optimistic. He said the plan "well may" help to end bickering among the services.

The plan was brought to Capitol Hill three days after it was reviewed at the White House by some of the top officials of the administration, including Eisenhower and Vice President Richard M. Nixon. Details were kept secret until the Senate committee could be briefed.

Underground Blasts Probe Urged By U.S.

GENEVA (AP) — The United States insisted Friday that the three-power nuclear conference here make a complete analysis of underground explosions to prevent cheating on an atomic test ban.

U. S. Ambassador James J. Wadsworth introduced a report prepared by a group of White House scientists to the three-power conference. The report also was made public in Washington.

The Soviet Union promised to study this new American technical information but declined to commit itself either for or against a three-power study of the underground problem — the most difficult stumbling block in an attempt to negotiate a nuclear test suspension treaty.

Britain supported the study idea. The United States and Britain will only sign a test ban treaty that can be enforced. Both powers also insist the treaty and its control system be linked to the latest available scientific techniques.

The underground problem has run this course:

1. Last summer a group of Eastern and Western scientists concluded that a suspension of nuclear weapons tests was technically possible and proposed a network of 180 control posts as part of the ban's enforcement machinery.

2. Shortly before the three-power treaty negotiations opened last Oct. 31, the United States conducted underground explosions, the Hardtack II project. A first analysis of information from the project indicated the detection of underground blasts was much more difficult than the Eastern and Western scientists had thought.

The Soviet delegation has resisted a U.S. attempt to get conference consideration for the Nevada data.

House Passes Wheat Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House passed a wheat bill Friday aimed at cutting production in 1960 and 1961, but sharply increasing price support levels.

The measure, approved by a vote of 188-177, now goes to conference for adjustment of differences with a Senate bill passed May 22. Both versions are opposed by Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson.

Body Of Man Is Recovered

CRISFIELD, Md. (AP) — A waterman has recovered the body of a Richmond, Va. man who drowned last Dec. 6 when an outboard motor sank off Smith Point Light.

The Coast Guard said the victim was identified as Thomas M. Daly, 50, through papers on the body.

The bodies of two companions were recovered shortly after the sinking.

A-Test Ban Violators Can Muffle Shots

WASHINGTON (AP)—A White House-appointed scientific team reported Friday that violators of a ban on atomic tests could muffle underground explosion shots to escape detection.

The scientists called for a vigorous research program. They figured this could probably improve detection devices within three years to the point of effectiveness which test ban negotiators in Geneva previously had thought was available.

Findings by the 14-man panel headed by Dr. Lloyd Berkner were handed to the Soviet delegation at Geneva and were made public in Washington.

By pointing up the wide range of still unanswerable questions about underground blasts, the report may have a major impact on the seven-month-old Geneva talks. Similarly it could affect the debate in Washington over whether America can safely join in a test ban pact with the Soviets.

U.S. officials connected with the Geneva negotiations said the new scientific conclusions did not alter American policy favoring an international agreement to halt nuclear explosions.

The report was presented at Geneva, they said, as a prod to get the Reds to agree to the further detailed talks about underground explosions Washington now says are needed. So far the Soviets have contended that findings of experts last August are enough.

The experts last year figured 180 detecting stations worldwide could account for all except 20 to 100 earthquakes a year of five kiloton—small atomic blast—size or larger. At least some of these unexplained occurrences would have to be checked at their location to make sure they weren't illegal nuclear shots, rather than earthquakes.

State Case Rested In Fla. Rape Trial

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) — The state rested its case Friday in the trial of four white youths charged with the rape of a Negro coed after introducing confessions that all four had assaulted the girl.

At the opening of a special night session, prosecutor William Hopkins told the court he had called all his witnesses.

Judge W. May Walker immediately denied defense motions for a directed verdict of acquittal for the four youths, aged 16 to 24, who could get the electric chair if they are found guilty without a jury recommendation of mercy.

Since 1925, a total of 37 Negores have been electrocuted in Flordia for the rape of white women. One white man was electrocuted for the rape of a white woman, but no white man ever has gone to the chair for attacking a Negro.

Earlier Friday night, the judge, jury, defendants and lawyers had gone on a tour of the alleged scenes of the abduction of the 19-year-old Flordia A&M University coed, the place where she was assaulted deep in a wooded area and the spot where the four whites were arrested with the girl at gunpoint.

Before the entire cast of the sensational case moved out of the courtroom, confessions of all four defendants were recited in which each admitted he had intercourse with th girl.

One defendant, David Beagles, 18, took the witness stand in the absence of the jury to protest that his confession was taken when he was "scared, sleepy and had consumed a large quantity of liquor."

Beagles' statement said that the four defendants came upon two Negro couples having sexual intercourse in a parked car, and that he and his companions took the Negro girl, put her in their car and had intercourse with her later. He said the slender, 19-year-old Florida A&M University coed was taken while her companions were held at the point of a shotgun and knife.

Beagles said one of the Negro girls ran, but the other was put in the boy's car with a "little push once." It was said she did not cry out.

The four youths were arrested a short time later on the morning of May 2 and the girl, near collapse, was found in their car.

Deputies related the statements of Scarborough and Stoutamire to the jury before Beagles took the stand to support a defense motion that his statement be held inadmissible.

The girl, whose name cannot be published under Florida law, testified Thursday that she and three companions on a campus spring formal double date were taken from a parked car after the dance, and that she was forced at the point of a knife and shotgun to submit.

The girl, whose testimony was supported by that of her Negro companions on the double date, said the white youths accosted them, forced them to kneel in the headlights of their car and then put her in their car. She said they drove to a wooded area where she was assaulted repeatedly.

No white man has ever been electrocuted for rape in Florida, but at least 37 Negroes have been

Boy Caused Train Wreck

MCRAE, Ga. (AP)—A 10-year-old Negro boy caused the wreck of a freight train here Sunday night that threw the town into terror from fear of leakage of deadly chlorine gas carried by the freight.

The boy had been playing on the tracks and threw a switch on the main line, Charles W. Brown, Savannah FBI agent and Lt. Henry Spurlin, Georgia Bureau of Investigation agent, said Friday.

The officers said the boy apparently had no intention of wrecking the train and did not realize his tampering with the switch could derail the cars.

The boy, whose name was withheld under state law governing juveniles, was turned over to juvenile authorities and will be given a hearing before Superior Court Judge John K. Whaley.

There were no injuries in the wreck but 19 cars and three engines were derailed and property damage was estimated at more than half a million dollars.

Collie Puppy, Wedged In Wall Crevice, Dies

WASHINGTON (AP)—A tan and white puppy died Friday, wedged so tightly in a crevice between two downtown buildings that rescuers could not get him out.

They had tried valiantly though, working eight hours Thursday. Finally, they figured the only way was to tear out the bricks that walled in the dog.

But owners of the warehouse and two story apartment, that made the puppy's prison, refused permission.

Policemen, firemen and officials of the Washington Animal Rescue League had been ready to go to court for an order to break down the wall.

But the puppy, whose whimpering brought would-be rescuers to the scene, died before the legal wheels were set in motion.

Nobody knew who owned the little animal, described as an 8-week-old collie.

Machinery Embargo Is Turned Down

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization rejected the plea of American producers for an embargo or import restrictions on heavy electric power generating machinery.

The agency told President Eisenhower Friday it has not found evidence that foreign hydraulic equipment is being imported in such quantities as to threaten national security.

Director Leo A. Hoegh announced, however, that he will keep imports of hydraulic turbines under close study.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Groundbreaking ceremonies were held Friday for the new seven million dollar National Library of Medicine in nearby Bethesda, Md.

Billie Holiday Arrested On Narcotics Violation

NEW YORK (UPI) — Blues singer Billie Holiday was arrested Friday on charges of sniffing heroin in bed at Metropolian Hospital where she has been in critical condition for two weeks with liver and heart ailments and anemia.

Police said a silver foil envelope containing pure heroin was found in the 43-year-old Negro singer's hospital room. They said she admitted that she "sniffed it" occasionaly.

An unidentified nurse making a routine inspection Friday morning noticed that Miss Holiday had white powder on her nose, police said. She said that she searched around and found the envelope in the singer's right hand.

Miss Holiday, who was carried to the hospital May 31 in a comatose stare, was booked by telephone on charges of possession of narcotics. She will be arraigned later, probably in her hospital room.

Police said Miss Holiday, once one of the nation's top entertainers, told them she "found" the heroin in the bottom of her pocketbook. They said she told them she used the drug for two weeks before she entered the hospital.

Police said, however, they were skeptical of her explanation and believed that a friend had smuggled the heroin in to her.

Miss Holiday was confined as a prisoner in the hospital and a police guard was stationed outside her room.

In 1947 Miss Holiday pleaded to be sent to a federal institution to cure her narcotics addiction after she entered a guilty plea in Philadelphia to possession of heroin.

Positions Stiffen In Steel Talks

Companies Refuse Union Demand For Individual Pacts

NEW YORK (AP) — Positions stiffened Friday in the already stalemated steel industry dispute, casting doubt on when and how negotiations might be resumed.

With talks broken off for the second day in a row, both sides held directly opposing views as to the basis for further discussion.

The United Steelworkers of America demanded that future talks be with individual companies. Discussions in the past during current negotiations have been on an industrywide basis.

The 12 major steel companies gave a flat "no" answer to the individual talks.

None Will Attend

"No company representatives will attend," said an industry statement, after a poll of the separate firms.

The conflict left prospects for new meetings uncertain, with the expiration of the labor contract for half a million Steelworkers on June 30.

A new strategy huddle of the union's 171-member Wage Policy Committee authorized negotiators to "take whatever steps they deem necessary" in the snarled dispute.

Union President David J. McDonald said the industry obviously was trying "to force a crisis," and if the mills are shut down by a strike, the responsibility "will rest clearly on the steel industry."

"Our people are united as never before in the face of the arrogant position of the industry," he said.

Talk To Both Sides

In Washington, Federal Mediation Director Joseph F. Finnegan said he expected to talk with representatives of both sides independently later this month, when they are in Washington for conferences with senators.

Should a strike come, it would close plants producing 90 per cent of the nation's steel, a major segment in the American economy.

For weeks, negotiators have been at loggerheads over the union's demand for wage increases.

Thursday, the industrywide talks, with four-man teams representing each side, were recessed indefinitely. The union insisted on company-by-company talks.

Rubber Union Signs Contract

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—The United Rubber Workers signed an agreement with the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. to end their 58-day-old strike Friday. The contract must be ratified by the membership.

A company call for hundreds of production workers to return to work Friday night hit a snag when the executive committee of Local 7 here refused to send its members back until the agreement is ratified.

More than a third of Firestone's 18,000 employes are in the local here.

Isadore Gold, a vice president of the Akron local, said pickets will be maintained at plants here until a membership meeting is held Sunday.

Other workers involved in the longest strike in the union's history are employed at Firestone plants in Des Moines, Los Angeles, Memphis, Pottstown, Pa., Noblesville and New Castle, Ind., and Fall River, Mass.

At Cleveland, where union and company negotiators had met in morning, afternoon and night sessions since Sunday, the new agreements were signed shortly after noon. One agreement was a pension-insurance pact which runs to April 30, 1964. The other was a master contract which will expire April 15, 1961.

The Firestone pension settlement followed the pattern of an agreement which last Tuesday ended a 55-day strike of 14,000 B. F. Goodrich Co. workers in eight cities.

Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. was the only one of the industry's Big Four that was not struck. Goodyear has 23,000 URW members.

Ohio Mother Claims She Was Kidnaped

GUYMON, Okla (AP) — A disheveled Ohio mother, who said she was abducted in Albuquerque, N.M., Thursday, told police Friday she escaped from her captors here.

R. L. Shepard, Guymon police chief, said Jeannette Bailey, 25, related she fled about midnight from a motel where she, two men and a woman were staying.

Mrs. Bailey, Shepard said, told him she had separated from her husband in Akron two weeks ago, and left with her two children. However, her husband said in Akron Friday he and his wife were not separated and that she went west because of poor health. He said she telephoned him frequently.

Shephard said the FBI questioned Mrs. Bailey and her companions. Arrested at the motel were Lois M. Stripling, 32, Farmington, N.M.; Jesse Kenner, and Harold Hollderton, the police chief disclosed.

Officers said the men gave no addresses and expressed doubt their names were authentic. Farmington police said the Stripling woman was free on $500 bond in a gambling charge.

Shephard said Mrs. Bailey told him one of the men "slugged her on the jaw and one hit her in the stomach" before forcing her into a car outside the Sunset Inn at Albuquerque early Thursday morning.

Mrs. Bailey had a bruised face and lip, the chief said.

At Oklahoma City, Wesley Grapp, agent in charge of the FBI in Oklahoma, said no decision had been reached on whether to file charges against the trio arrested at the motel.

Dillon Sworn In

WASHINGTON (AP)—C. Douglas Dillon was sworn in Friday as undersecretary of state at a White House ceremony. This officially moved Dillon into the State Department's No. 2 post, a job filled by Christian A. Herter before he succeeded John Foster Dulles as secretary of state.

Big 4 Seeks To End Major Differences

Gromyko Warns Against Obstacles, Denies Ultimatum

GENEVA (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko insisted Friday that the Western powers accept a summit meeting even if the present Big Four conference founders in a deadlock over Berlin.

He warned the United States, Britain and France that they will "take responsibility for the consequences" if they put obstacles in the way of a summit meeting.

Gromyko openly challenged President Eisenhower's position that a heads of government conference can be held only if the Geneva foreign ministers meeting produces positive results.

Seek Break Out

Gromyko's move came as the foreign ministers, at the end of their fifth week of talks, sought to break out of a major crisis over Moscow's proposal of a one-year deadline for Western withdrawal from West Berlin.

In a three-hour session at the Palace of Nations, Gromyko refused to modify by one word the Soviet plan which the Western ministers have labeled as totally unacceptable, as an ultimatum and as a move to wreck the Geneva conference.

Under prodding by U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd, and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville, Gromyko denied that the Soviet proposal constitutes an ultimatum.

But he kept a solid position on Moscow's campaign to force the Western Allies out of Soviet-encircled Berlin.

Slight Weakening

The Western ministers have threatened to break off the Geneva negotiations unless Gromyko softens the Kremlin's newest effort to get the Allies out of West Berlin.

Herter, Lloyd and Couve de Murville, in what suggested a slight weakening on the Western side, agreed to a secret session with Gromyko Monday.

The Western delegation spokesmen had been declaring that there would be no more secret talks unless Gromyko beat a diplomatic retreat.

OTTAWA (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II will unveil a monument when she visits Eisenhower Lock and the Moses Saunders Dam, in the international section of the St. Lawrence Seaway June 27, officials said Friday. Long Gets Habeas Corpus Writ, Charges Kidnaping

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — Louisiana Gov. Earl K. Long, "a governor in exile by force and kidnaping" by his own description, filed for a habeas corpus hearing Friday, contending he was flown to a psychiatric clinic here against his will.

Dist. Judge L. D. Godard signed the writ and set the hearing for Monday at 10 a.m., one day before Long was to undergo a sanity hearing.

Court-appointed attorneys for the volatile, 63-year old Louisiana governor claimed their client had been forcibly removed from his mansion, "his feet, ankles and arms tied to a stretcher," under powerful sedation.

The petition also charged that Long, flown here from Baton Rouge, La., on May 30, was "illegally confined and restrained in his liberty at the John Sealy Hospital."

Attys. Adrian S. Levy Sr., former Galveston mayor; Jean Hosey; and Fine S. Bedford filed the petition, signed in Long's own handwriting: "Earl K. Long, governor in exile by force and kidnaping."

The trip from Baton Rouge in a Louisiana Air National Guard plane came just three days after Long exploded during a legislative hearing and laced his opponents' in a profanity-strewn outburst.

Mrs. Long signed commitment papers for her husband, contending he was "mentally and physically exhausted."

Probate Judge Hugh Gibson ordered Tuesday's sanity hearing after doctors agreed with Mrs. Long and said Long should be confined to the hospital "for his own protection and that of others."

Judge Godard ordered Dr. Daniel Bobbitt, director of hospitals at the John Sealy Medical Center, to bring Long to the hearing.

A-Test Ban Violators Can Muffle Shots

WASHINGTON (AP)—A White House-appointed scientific team reported Friday that violators of a ban on atomic tests could muffle underground explosion shots to escape detection.

The scientists called for a vigorous research program. They figured this could probably improve detection devices within three years to the point of effectiveness which test ban negotiators in Geneva previously had thought was available.

Findings by the 14-man panel headed by Dr. Lloyd Berkner were handed to the Soviet delegation at Geneva and were made public in Washington.

By pointing up the wide range of still unanswerable questions about underground blasts, the report may have a major impact on the seven-month-old Geneva talks. Similarly it could affect the debate in Washington over whether America can safely join in a test ban pact with the Soviets.

U.S. officials connected with the Geneva negotiations said the new scientific conclusions did not alter American policy favoring an international agreement to halt nuclear explosions.

The report was presented at Geneva, they said, as a prod to get the Reds to agree to the further detailed talks about underground explosions Washington now says are needed. So far the Soviets have contended that findings of experts last August are enough.

The experts last year figured 180 detecting stations worldwide could account for all except 20 to 100 earthquakes a year of five kiloton—small atomic blast—size or larger. At least some of these unexplained occurrences would have to be checked at their location to make sure they weren't illegal nuclear shots, rather than earthquakes.

State Case Rested In Fla. Rape Trial

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) — The state rested its case Friday in the trial of four white youths charged with the rape of a Negro coed after introducing confessions that all four had assaulted the girl.

At the opening of a special night session, prosecutor William Hopkins told the court he had called all his witnesses.

Judge W. May Walker immediately denied defense motions for a directed verdict of acquittal for the four youths, aged 16 to 24, who could get the electric chair if they are found guilty without a jury recommendation of mercy.

Since 1925, a total of 37 Negores have been electrocuted in Flordia for the rape of white women. One white man was electrocuted for the rape of a white woman, but no white man ever has gone to the chair for attacking a Negro.

Earlier Friday night, the judge, jury, defendants and lawyers had gone on a tour of the alleged scenes of the abduction of the 19-year-old Flordia A&M University coed, the place where she was assaulted deep in a wooded area and the spot where the four whites were arrested with the girl at gunpoint.

Before the entire cast of the sensational case moved out of the courtroom, confessions of all four defendants were recited in which each admitted he had intercourse with the girl.

One defendant, David Beagles, 18, took the witness stand in the absence of the jury to protest that his confession was taken when he was "scared, sleepy and had consumed a large quantity of liquor."

Beagles' statement said that the four defendants came upon two Negro couples having sexual intercourse in a parked car, and that he and his companions took the Negro girl, put her in their car and had intercourse with her later. He said the slender, 19-year-old Florida A&M University coed was taken while her companions were held at the point of a shotgun and knife.

Beagles said one of the Negro girls ran, but the other was put in the boy's car with a "little push once." It was said she did not cry out.

The four youths were arrested a short time later on the morning of May 2 and the girl, near collapse, was found in their car.

Deputies related the statements of Scarborough and Stoutamire to the jury before Beagles took the stand to support a defense motion that his statement be held inadmissible.

The girl, whose name cannot be published under Florida law, testified Thursday that she and three companions on a campus spring formal double date were taken from a parked car after the dance, and that she was forced at the point of a knife and shotgun to submit.

The girl, whose testimony was supported by that of her Negro companions on the double date, said the white youths accosted them, forced them to kneel in the headlights of their car and then put her in their car. She said they drove to a wooded area where she was assaulted repeatedly.

No white man has ever been electrocuted for rape in Florida, but at least 37 Negroes have been

Rubber Union Signs Contract

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—The United Rubber Workers signed an agreement with the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. to end their 58-day-old strike Friday. The contract must be ratified by the membership.

A company call for hundreds of production workers to return to work Friday night hit a snag when the executive committee of Local 7 here refused to send its members back until the agreement is ratified.

More than a third of Firestone's 18,000 employes are in the local here.

Isadore Gold, a vice president of the Akron local, said pickets will be maintained at plants here until a membership meeting is held Sunday.

Other workers involved in the longest strike in the union's history are employed at Firestone plants in Des Moines, Los Angeles, Memphis, Pottstown, Pa., Noblesville and New Castle, Ind., and Fall River, Mass.

At Cleveland, where union and company negotiators had met in morning, afternoon and night sessions since Sunday, the new agreements were signed shortly after noon. One agreement was a pension-insurance pact which runs to April 30, 1964. The other was a master contract which will expire April 15, 1961.

The Firestone pension settlement followed the pattern of an agreement which last Tuesday ended a 55-day strike of 14,000 B. F. Goodrich Co. workers in eight cities.

Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. was the only one of the industry's Big Four that was not struck. Goodyear has 23,000 URW members.

The Coast Guard said the victim was identified as Thomas M. Daly, 50, through papers on the body.

The bodies of two companions were recovered shortly after the sinking.

Daly's body was found Thursday by Carson Bruce, Jr., from the Smith Island community of Tylerton, across Chesapeake Bay from the western shore scene of the accident.

The agency told President Eisenhower Friday it has not found evidence that foreign hydraulic equipment is being imported in such quantities as to threaten national security.

Director Leo A. Hoegh announced, however, that he will keep imports of hydraulic turbines under close study.

Boy Caused Train Wreck

MCRAE, Ga. (AP)—A 10-year-old Negro boy caused the wreck of a freight train here Sunday night that threw the town into terror from fear of leakage of deadly chlorine gas carried by the freight.

The boy had been playing on the tracks and threw a switch on the main line, Charles W. Brown, Savannah FBI agent and Lt. Henry Spurlin, Georgia Bureau of Investigation agent, said Friday.

The officers said the boy apparently had no intention of wrecking the train and did not realize his tampering with the switch could derail the cars.

The boy, whose name was withheld under state law governing juveniles, was turned over to juvenile authorities and will be given a hearing before Superior Court Judge John K. Whaley.

There were no injuries in the wreck but 19 cars and three engines were derailed and property damage was estimated at more than half a million dollars.

Collie Puppy, Wedged In Wall Crevice, Dies

WASHINGTON (AP)—A tan and white puppy died Friday, wedged so tightly in a crevice between two downtown buildings that rescuers could not get him out.

They had tried valiantly though, working eight hours Thursday. Finally, they figured the only way was to tear out the bricks that walled in the dog.

But owners of the warehouse and two-story apartment, that made the puppy's prison, refused permission.

Policemen, firemen and officials of the Washington Animal Rescue League had been ready to go to court for an order to break down the wall.

But the puppy, whose whimpering brought would-be rescuers to the scene, died before the legal wheels were set in motion.

Nobody knew who owned the little animal, described as an 8-week-old collie.

Billie Holiday Arrested On Narcotics Violation

NEW YORK (UPI) — Blues singer Billie Holiday was arrested Friday on charges of sniffing heroin in bed at Metropolian Hospital where she has been in critical condition for two weeks with liver and heart ailments and anemia.

Police said a silver foil envelope containing pure heroin was found in the 43-year-old Negro singer's hospital room. They said she admitted that she "sniffed it" occasionaly.

An unidentified nurse making a routine inspection Friday morning noticed that Miss Holiday had white powder on her nose, police said. She said that she searched around and found the envelope in the singer's right hand.

Miss Holiday, who was carried to the hospital May 31 in a comatose stare, was booked by telephone on charges of possession of narcotics. She will be arraigned later, probably in her hospital room.

Police said Miss Holiday, once one of the nation's top entertainers, told them she "found" the heroin in the bottom of her pocketbook. They said she told them she used the drug for two weeks before she entered the hospital.

Police said, however, they were skeptical of her explanation and believed that a friend had smuggled the heroin in to her.

Miss Holiday was confined as a prisoner in the hospital and a police guard was stationed outside her room.

Long Gets Habeas Corpus Writ, Charges Kidnaping

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — Louisiana Gov. Earl K. Long, "a governor in exile by force and kidnaping" by his own description, filed for a habeas corpus hearing Friday, contending he was flown to a psychiatric clinic here against his will.

Dist. Judge L. D. Godard signed the writ and set the hearing for Monday at 10 a.m., one day before Long was to undergo a sanity hearing.

Court-appointed attorneys for the volatile, 63-year old Louisiana governor claimed their client had been forcibly removed from his mansion, "his feet, ankles and arms tied to a stretcher," under powerful sedation.

The petition also charged that Long, flown here from Baton Rouge, La., on May 30, was "illegally confined and restrained in his liberty at the John Sealy Hospital."

Attys. Adrian S. Levy Sr., former Galveston mayor; Jean Hosey; and Fine S. Bedford filed the petition, signed in Long's own handwriting: "Earl K. Long, governor in exile by force and kidnaping."

The trip from Baton Rouge in a Louisiana Air National Guard plane came just three days after Long exploded during a legislative hearing and laced his opponents in a profanity-strewn outburst.

Mrs. Long signed commitment papers for her husband, contending he was "mentally and physically exhausted."

Probate Judge Hugh Gibson ordered Tuesday's sanity hearing after doctors agreed with Mrs. Long and said Long should be confined to the hospital "for his own protection and that of others."

Judge Godard ordered Dr. Daniel Bobbitt, director of hospitals at the John Sealy Medical Center, to bring Long to the hearing.

Boston Jittery As Police Hunt 'Mad Bomber'

BOSTON (PUI) — Staid Boston suffered a bad case of the jitters Friday as police hunted the madman whose homemade bomb shredded a rapid transit station, sending 38 persons to hospitals.

While scores of explosive experts studied bits of wreckage from the ruined rapid transit station outside North Station, Boston police were tracing a series of bomb hoax calls.

Police were manning telephone switchboards in efforts to trace threatening calls, sending bomb squads and ambulances to check out the threats, and inspecting banks of public coin lockers in the various transit terminals. Thursday's bomb was in a coin locker.

While elevated and subway service was reported back to normal Friday, Metropolitan Transit Authority reported a sharp drop in patronage.

Only three of the injured remained in serious condition at hospitals. Most seriously hurt was 81-year-old Abraham Roberts of Roxbury who suffered severe neck wounds when struck by flying shrapnel. Most of the injured were released from hospitals after treatment of cuts, shock and minor injuries.

Capt. Gerald McCarthy, chief of the state fire marshal's office explosive staff, said both state and city experts had found traces of black explosive powder in the station.

Authorities estimated that some 25 pounds of black powder, the approximate equivalent of a 100-pound World War II aerial bomb, was used to shatter the waiting station. Force of the blast smashed 13th floor windows in the hotel Madison next to the Station.

Another DMV Site Offered

BALTIMORE (AP) — City and State officials will take a look Monday at another site offered for the new Department of Motor Vehicles building.

On the following day a meeting has been called by Gov. Tawes and the State Board of Public Works to make a final decision on where the DMV headquarters will be erected.

The city of Baltimore has made the latest offer of land in an effort to keep the agency here. It is a 12½ acre plot in the northeast section near the new Northeastern District Police Station.

The state has tentatively agreed to buy a site on Ritchie Highway in Anne Arundel County, but delayed the final action at the request of Mayor Grady and other city officials.

Deputy City Comptroller Leo C. McDonagh said the property would be offered the state at a low cost. The State has said it is ready to pay $12,500 an acre for the Anne Arundel County site.

Man Is Held On Theft Count

SALISBURY, Md. (AP) — Federal authorities are holding a man in $2,500 bail for a preliminary hearing on a charge of receiving money stolen from the post office in nearby Nanticoke.

U.S. Commissioner John B. Robins said James Barclay, 20-year-old Negro, of Nanticoke, surrendered to police Thursday after returning here from Florida.

Thieves broke into the post office safe last Nov. 8 and escaped with between $200 and $300 in cash. The money was thrown into the waters of Muddy Hole Creek near Nanticoke where it was later recovered.

Robins said Barclay allegedly assisted another man in the theft.

executed in this state for that crime.

The confession by Scarborough related to the all-white, male jury by Hamlin said the four youths were "riding around" in Collinsworth's car early on the morning of May 2.

Collinsworth's shotgun was in the car, and Beagles had a knife, the statement said.

The defense claimed that the statements to Slappey were made before the defendants had a chance to "sleep off their drunk." The statements were made less than an hour after the arrests, and the defense claimed the defendants were denied the right to call for legal assistance.

Social Work School Planned At University

BALTIMORE (AP) — The University of Maryland plans to establish the state's first graduate school of social work.

Dr. Wilson H. Elkins, university president, said a $20,000 grant from State Legislature will be sought next year to start operation of the two-year school.

If the funds are provided, Dr. Elkins said, the school probably will open in September 1961.

It will be situated on the Baltimore campus either in the law school building or in one of the buildings recently purchased by the university from the Hecht Co.

Forty students probably will make up the first class, Dr. Elkins said. The total enrollment is expected to reach 120 with a teaching staff of 10 plus administrative officials.

Dr. Elkins estimated it will cost $120,000 annually to operate the full program.

A master's degree will be offered.

Lad, 6, Recovers From Rare Type Of Meningitis

WASHINGTON (AP)—A 6-year-old Silver Spring, Md. boy is believed to be the third person ever to recover from a rare type of meningitis.

Vincent Burris, young son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Burris, soon will leave Children's Hospital here after recovering from acute clostridium welchii—a deadly meningitis caused by gas gangrene bacteria.

His is the first case of recovery ever reported in American medical history. Two others who have recovered lived in Europe. These cases were reported in British and Scandinavian medical journals.

Playing baseball June 1 in a field where horses had been pastured, Vincent fell on a barbed wire and suffered a punctured wound in the head. He was given a shot of tetanus toxoid but grew worse and was taken to the hospital.

He hovered between life and death until Wednesday of last week. Then he began improving and by last Friday was asking for food.

Laboratory tests showed the gangrene bacteria in his blood, his spinal column and the forehead wound. He was given a gas gangrene antitoxin.

Doctors said that had not the bacteria caused the meningitis, Vincent would probably have developed gas gangrene of the scalp and died. The appearance of meningitis caused doctors to search out the cause and treat the infection. And, had not the meningitis appeared so quickly, the bacteria probably would have had the head start it needed to kill.

Probe Cancer Agents In Food

WASHINGTON (AP)—An investigation into the possible presence of cancer-causing agents in food container waxes is planned by the Food and Drug Administration if Congress votes the necessary funds.

Also projected is a study of possible bacterial contamination of frozen foods.

These projects are among seven new, or intensified, research programs the FDA plans as part of an expansion after July 1. They depend on a two-million-dollar addition by Congress to the Eisenhower administration's budget. The House has approved the additional money. The Senate Appropriations Committee is expected to act next week.

Robert S. Roe, director of FDA's Bureau of Biological and Physical Sciences, said in an interview Friday the investigation of container waxes is planned to determine whether or not any now used on milk or other food containers contain impurities significant to public health.

Roe said he is aware of reports of the finding of minute amounts of possible cancer-causing agents in some waxes used on milk containers.

Tawes Hears Final Pleas In Hepbron Case

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Gov. Tawes Friday heard final arguments in the James M. Hepbron case and will decide "as soon as possible" whether he should remove him from office as Baltimore police commissioner.

Tawes heard a one-hour summation by each side, then met with Atty. Gen. C. Ferdinand Sybert and Richard W. Case, Baltimore attorney assisting in the case.

Charges of misconduct and incompetence were brought against Hepbron by the Baltimore City delegation to the House of Delegates after criticism originating from Del. Jerome Robinson (D-Balto 4th).

Seven days of testimony ended May 19, and the hearing was recessed until Friday. It is the first time in 21 years that a hearing has been conducted to determine if a Maryland governor should exercise his constitutional power of removing a department head.

John Hanson Mitchell and Charles Audry Thompson, coprosecutors for the city delegation, claimed in summation that Hepbron condoned illegal wire tapping by his men, improperly associated with ex-convicts, and failed to properly control the department's Rackets Division.

The ex-convicts named were Frankie Carbo, who was jailed on manslaughter charges and recently arrested in New Jersey as a result of a probe into underworld influence on boxing; Benny Trotta, former Baltimore boxing promoter and convicted draftdodger and gambler, and Carroll (Cappy) Goldstein, Baltimore printer convicted of white slavery charges.

Under questioning by Case, Mitchell admitted that any associations Hepbron might have had with such men before he became police commissioner in 1955 would have no bearing on Tawes' decision unless the associations were shown to have continued.

Mitchell claimed the testimony of two former top officials of the Police Department showed "beyond a shadow of doubt" that Hepbron knew of at least five wire taps which continued illegally after a 1956 city ordinance required a separate court order for each tap.

Hepbron had claimed former Inspector Clarence O. Forrester, suspended since a departmental investigation in 1957, was responsible for observing the wiretap law.

But Mitchell argued that Hepbron could not delegate this responsibility and was accountable for the actions of his subordinates.

Steels Hold Spotlight In Quiet Market Session

NEW YORK (UPI) — Steel shares held the spotlight in a largely routine and extremely quiet weekend stock market session.

Volume fell off to 2,580,000 shares, smallest turnover since last Sept. 5, compared with 3,120,000 shares on Thursday as traders hesitated to make commitments in the light of the market's recent sharp swings.

Attention centered on steels when the United Steel Workers authorized strike action as negotiations remained deadlocked on the effort to come to a new industry wage agreement.

The improvement in steels was in line with Wall Street predictions which had said the issues would do better if there were a strike than if one were averted. While gains in the group ranged past 2 points, they were insufficient to offset declines elsewhere in the list and the leading averages showed smal. declines.

Working against the industrial average were losses of 1 ¼ point in Allied Chemical, 7-8 in Chrysler, a point in Procter & Gamble, 1¼ United Aircraft, U. S. Steel improved 1⅝, Bethlehem ¾ point. Alcoa gained 1⅛. International Nickel a point.

Some of the widest changes appeared in the drug group where Abbott Laboratories rose 4¾ points and American Home Products 1½ points while Merck fell 2. Warner-Lambert 1⅝ and Vick a point.

Among electronics, Zenith gained 1¾; Raytheon fell 2. Victor Chemical ran up 3 points. Cessna Aircraft rose 3¾. General Dynamics 2⅞. Corning Glass showed a gain close to 2 and there was improvement of a point or more in U. S. Gypsum, J. C. Penney and Polaroid.

Among rails changes generally were small and to the downside. Baltimore & Ohio lost ¾ point, Rock Island a point.

Utility changes ranged from a gain of ¾ in Philadelphia Electric to a loss of 1⅜ in Houston Lighting.

Of a total 1,190 issues traded, 517 were lower on the day while 449 advanced.

Activity centered in Pennsylvania Railroad which rose ⅝ to 19 on volume of 59,600 shares. Raytheon, off 2 points at 52, and American Telephone, off ½ at 79⅛, followed in order.

Boston Jittery As Police Hunt 'Mad Bomber'

BOSTON (PUI) — Staid Boston suffered a bad case of the jitters Friday as police hunted the madman whose homemade bomb shredded a rapid transit station, sending 38 persons to hospitals.

While scores of explosive experts studied bits of wreckage from the ruined rapid transit station outside North Station, Boston police were tracing a series of bomb hoax calls.

Police were manning telephone switchboards in efforts to trace threatening calls, sending bomb squads and ambulances to check out the threats, and inspecting banks of public coin lockers in the various transit terminals. Thursday's bomb was in a coin locker.

While elevated and subway service was reported back to normal Friday, Metropolitan Transit Authority reported a sharp drop in patronage.

Only three of the injured remained in serious condition at hospitals. Most seriously hurt was 81-year-old Abraham Roberts of Roxbury who suffered severe neck wounds when struck by flying shrapnel. Most of the injured were released from hospitals after treatment of cuts, shock and minor injuries.

Capt. Gerald McCarthy, chief of the state fire marshal's office explosive staff, said both state and city experts had found traces of black explosive powder in the station.

Authorities estimated that some 25 pounds of black powder, the approximate equivalent of a 100-pound World War II aerial bomb, was used to shatter the waiting station. Force of the blast smashed 13th floor windows in the hotel Madison next to the Station.

Another DMV Site Offered

BALTIMORE (AP) — City and State officials will take a look Monday at another site offered for the new Department of Motor Vehicles building.

On the following day a meeting has been called by Gov. Tawes and the State Board of Public Works to make a final decision on where the DMV headquarters will be erected.

The city of Baltimore has made the latest offer of land in an effort to keep the agency here. It is a 12½ acre plot in the northeast section near the new Northeastern District Police Station.

The state has tentatively agreed to buy a site on Ritchie Highway in Anne Arundel County, but delayed the final action at the request of Mayor Grady and other city officials.

Deputy City Comptroller Leo C. McDonagh said the property would be offered the state at a low cost. The State has said it is ready to pay $12,500 an acre for the Anne Arundel County site.

Man Is Held On Theft Count

SALISBURY, Md. (AP) — Federal authorities are holding a man in $2,500 bail for a preliminary hearing on a charge of receiving money stolen from the post office in nearby Nanticoke.

U.S. Commissioner John B. Robins said James Barclay, 20-year-old Negro, of Nanticoke, surrendered to police Thursday after returning here from Florida.

Thieves broke into the post office safe last Nov. 8 and escaped with between $200 and $300 in cash. The money was thrown into the waters of Muddy Hole Creek near Nanticoke where it was later recovered.

Robins said Barclay allegedly assisted another man in the theft.

executed in this state for that crime.

The confession by Scarborough related to the all-white, male jury by Hamlin said the four youths were "riding around" in Collinsworth's car early on the morning of May 2.

Collinsworth's shotgun was in the car, and Beagles had a knife, the statement said.

The defense claimed that the statements to Slappey were made before the defendants had a chance to "sleep off their drunk." The statements were made less than an hour after the arrests, and the defense claimed the defendants were denied the right to call for legal assistance.

Presley On Leave

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) —Elvis Presley, his tonsils intact, went on leave Friday from the Army for a visit to France and England. The singer got out of a hospital only two days ago after a week's bout with tonsillitis.

Social Work School Planned At University

BALTIMORE (AP) — The University of Maryland plans to establish the state's first graduate school of social work.

Dr. Wilson H. Elkins, university president, said a $20,000 grant from State Legislature will be sought next year to start operation of the two-year school.

If the funds are provided, Dr. Elkins said, the school probably will open in September 1961.

It will be situated on the Baltimore campus either in the law school building or in one of the buildings recently purchased by the university from the Hecht Co.

Forty students probably will make up the first class, Dr. Elkins said. The total enrollment is expected to reach 120 with a teaching staff of 10 plus administrative officials.

Dr. Elkins estimated it will cost $120,000 annually to operate the full program.

A master's degree will be offered.

Lad, 6, Recovers From Rare Type Of Meningitis

WASHINGTON (AP)—A 6-year-old Silver Spring, Md. boy is believed to be the third person ever to recover from a rare type of meningitis.

Vincent Burris, young son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Burris, soon will leave Children's Hospital here after recovering from acute clostridium welchii—a deadly meningitis caused by gas gangrene bacteria.

His is the first case of recovery ever reported in American medical history. Two others who have recovered lived in Europe. These cases were reported in British and Scandinavian medical journals.

Playing baseball June 1 in a field where horses had been pastured, Vincent fell on a barbed wire and suffered a punctured wound in the head. He was given a shot of tetanus toxoid but grew worse and was taken to the hospital.

He hovered between life and death until Wednesday of last week. Then he began improving and by last Friday was asking for food.

Laboratory tests showed the gangrene bacteria in his blood, his spinal column and the forehead wound. He was given a gas gangrene antitoxin.

Doctors said that had not the bacteria caused the meningitis, Vincent would probably have developed gas gangrene of the scalp and died. The appearance of meningitis caused doctors to search out the cause and treat the infection. And, had not the meningitis appeared so quickly, the bacteria probably would have had the head start it needed to kill.

Probe Cancer Agents In Food

WASHINGTON (AP)—An investigation into the possible presence of cancer-causing agents in food container waxes is planned by the Food and Drug Administration if Congress votes the necessary funds.

Also projected is a study of possible bacterial contamination of frozen foods.

These projects are among seven new, or intensified, research programs the FDA plans as part of an expansion after July 1. They depend on a two-million-dollar addition by Congress to the Eisenhower administration's budget. The House has approved the additional money. The Senate Appropriations Committee is expected to act next week.

Robert S. Roe, director of FDA's Bureau of Biological and Physical Sciences, said in an interview Friday the investigation of container waxes is planned to determine whether or not any now used on milk or other food containers contain impurities significant to public health.

Roe said he is aware of reports of the finding of minute amounts of possible cancer-causing agents in some waxes used on milk containers.

SAINT-NAZARE, France (AP) —The hull of the 75 million dollar luxury liner France, future flagship of the French Line, is almost built. When completed in 1961, the 55,000-ton vessel will be the third largest liner afloat, ranking just ahead of the United States and behind the Queen Elizabeth and Queen Mary.

SINGAPORE (AP)—Divers salvaging a World War II Japanese submarine in Singapore harbor found six live torpedoes in its tubes. Work was stopped to let frogmen remove the charges.

Tawes Hears Final Pleas In Hepbron Case

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Gov. Tawes Friday heard final arguments in the James M. Hepbron case and will decide "as soon as possible" whether he should remove him from office as Baltimore police commissioner.

Tawes heard a one-hour summation by each side, then met with Atty. Gen. C. Ferdinand Sybert and Richard W. Case, Baltimore attorney assisting in the case.

Charges of misconduct and incompetence were brought against Hepbron by the Baltimore City delegation to the House of Delegates after criticism originating from Del. Jerome Robinson (D-Balto 4th).

Seven days of testimony ended May 19, and the hearing was recessed until Friday. It is the first time in 21 years that a hearing has been conducted to determine if a Maryland governor should exercise his constitutional power of removing a department head.

John Hanson Mitchell and Charles Audry Thompson, co-prosecutors for the city delegation, claimed in summation that Hepbron condoned illegal wire tapping by his men, improperly associated with ex-convicts, and failed to properly control the department's Rackets Division.

The ex-convicts named were Frankie Carbo, who was jailed on manslaughter charges and recently arrested in New Jersey as a result of a probe into underworld influence on boxing; Benny Trotta, former Baltimore boxing promoter and convicted draftdodger and gambler, and Carroll (Cappy) Goldstein, Baltimore printer convicted of white slavery charges.

Under questioning by Case, Mitchell admitted that any associations Hepbron might have had with such men before he became police commissioner in 1955 would have no bearing on Tawes' decision unless the associations were shown to have continued.

Mitchell claimed the testimony of two former top officials of the Police Department showed "beyond a shadow of doubt" that Hepbron knew of at least five wire taps which continued illegally after a 1956 city ordinance required a separate court order for each tap.

Hepbron had claimed former Inspector Clarence O. Forrester, suspended since a departmental investigation in 1957, was responsible for observing the wiretap law.

But Mitchell argued that Hepbron could not delegate this responsibility and was accountable for the actions of his subordinates.

Man Convicted Of 25-Year-Old Murder Of Girl

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — Arthur J. Eisenman, who last year confessed a little girl's death as an accident after 25 years with it on his conscience, was convicted of first-degree murder Friday. The District Court jury recommended a life sentence.

The state maintained that the child, Nadine Vogel Love, 6, had been raped and strangled the night of April 20, 1933. The defense contended death resulted from Eisenman's car striking her.

Eisenman, 51, was arrested in San Francisco on a bad check charge last October and reported the accident. He testified during the trial that his former wife was with him at the time and helped dispose of the body. She denied this on the stand.

War Is Declared On Meter Looters

BALTIMORE (AP) — Chief Police Magistrate Joseph Kolodny declared war on parking meter looters in Baltimore Friday, with two teenage boys the first victims.

He sentenced them to six months each in the Maryland House of Correction for breaking into meters and taking money.

In the future, Kolodny said stiff penalties would be handed out to those found guilty of looting the devices.

Steels Hold Spotlight In Quiet Market Session

NEW YORK (UPI) — Steel shares held the spotlight in a largely routine and extremely quiet weekend stock market session.

Volume fell off to 2,580,000 shares, smallest turnover since last Sept. 5, compared with 3,120,000 shares on Thursday as traders hesitated to make commitments in the light of the market's recent sharp swings.

Attention centered on steels when the United Steel Workers authorized strike action as negotiations remained deadlocked on the effort to come to a new industry wage agreement.

The improvement in steels was in line with Wall Street predictions which had said the issues would do better if there were a strike than if one were averted. While gains in the group ranged past 2 points, they were insufficient to offset declines elsewhere in the list and the leading averages showed smal, declines.

Working against the industrial average were losses of 1 ¼ point in Allied Chemical, 7-8 in Chrysler, a point in Procter & Gamble, 1¼ United Aircraft, U. S. Steel improved 1⅝, Bethlehem ¾ point. Alcoa gained 1⅛. International Nickel a point.

Some of the widest changes appeared in the drug group where Abbott Laboratories rose 4¾ points and American Home Products 1½ points while Merck fell 2. Warner-Lambert 1⅝ and Vick a point.

Among electronics, Zenith gained 1¾; Raytheon fell 2. Victor Chemical ran up 3 points. Cessna Aircraft rose 3¾. General Dynamics 2⅞. Corning Glass showed a gain close to 2 and there was improvement of a point or more in U. S. Gypsum, J. C. Penney and Polaroid.

Among rails changes generally were small and to the downside. Baltimore & Ohio lost ¾ point, Rock Island a point.

Utility changes ranged from a gain of ¾ in Philadelphia Electric to a loss of 1⅜ in Houston Lighting.

Of a total 1,190 issues traded, 517 were lower on the day while 449 advanced.

Activity centered in Pennsylvania Railroad which rose ⅝ to 19 on volume of 59,600 shares. Raytheon, off 2 points at 52, and American Telephone, off ½ at 79⅛, followed in order.

Hospital Levy Referendum Set At Petersburg

Question Again Before Citizens

PETERSBURG—Grant County Court will re-submit the hospital levy at a special election next Friday.

A spokesman said the court feels that the issue in the last election was confused to some extent and also the fact the present call only asks for an extension of the levy and will not raise taxes above the present rates, since the levy is already in effect.

It is believed by court and hospital officials that with the case load gradually increasing, if the present problems can be solved at this time, the hospital will become self-supporting and will not need further subsidization after the present levy expires.

It is also noted that the services offered at the local hospital have increased considerably since the doors were opened some 15 months ago, and that as the services and cases increase the closer will be the time when the hospital will be able to stand on its own feet.

Forest Meeting At Petersburg Is Concluded

Multi-Use Plan Being Developed

PETERSBURG — The U. S. Forest Service completed a two-day workshop here for key personnel stationed in the Monongahela National Forest, with training focused on the scientific development of the region.

A multiple-use management plan for the forest land has been developed in a pilot area in the head of the South Branch Valley, according to Theodore C. Fearnow, Berkeley Springs, assistant regional forester.

Training for all district rangers and resource managers of the 860,000-acre national forest was focused on this plan to meet the needs of local people and to serve the growing influx of recreational users from Cumberland, Baltimore, Washington, Pittsburgh and other metropolitan centers.

Byron Beattie, Upper Darby, Pa., chief of the Division of Resource Management from the regional office, was conference leader.

Last night at a public meeting in Petersburg High School community leaders sat in with the group to review plans for multiple-use management.

Forest Supervisor E. M. Olliver of Elkins explained how this plan actually multipled benefits and produced in the aggregate a far greater return from the land than any single purpose development program.

The program adopted for the upper South Branch Valley by Forest Ranger Clare Carr of Petersburg was discussed and reviewed.

Fearnow pointed out that a group of forest service specialists are in the process of conducting a soil survey of the lands in the National forest. They are working out of the forest's central office in Elkins.

At the same time, another group of specialists is in the process of compiling a recreational resources inventory.

A check of the timber is also being made to develop a timber management plan.

In the Red Creek section of Canaan Valley where many bad floods have occurred, the Forest Service has completed a watershed survey.

All the information will be coordinated into a master plan that will eliminate duplication of effort in the development of the region.

Rep. Harley O. Staggers, Keyser, (D-2nd W. Va.) re-stated his long-time interest and support for the national forest program.

The Congressman expressed his confidence in the immediate and long-term results from multiple use in the South Branch Valley area.

He singled out for special mention the need for greatly increased development of recreational facilities, access roads to tap forest resources, and a sidelight mentioned legislation aimed at the expanded use of coal, another important national forest resources.

Keyser Officials Agree On Sewer Line Location

KEYSER—The 36-inch surface water sewer line being laid in connection with the relocation of Route 220 through Keyser will go up Davis Street instead of the alley between Main and Davis Streets, it was decided at a meeting Thursday of the Mayor and Council, State Roads Commission officials and V. F. Stickley, contractor.

Mayor Richard E. Romig said the change in plans was made because of complications that would be met if the line were run up the alley. In the alley, he explained, are three sanitary sewer lines, two gas lines and the underground cable of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company.

Davis Street was resurfaced only last summer, but the mayor said Stickley assured him that it would be put back in at least as good condition as it is today. The mayor casually observed that if the sewer line had gone up the alley, it would also have been resurfaced. Stickley remarked he would blacktop the alley for the city.

Steckman Dancers Rehearse For Summer Review

This group of young women, billed as The Steckman Dancers, are shown during a rehearsal for The Summer Review of 1959 to be staged June 17 at 8 p. m. at Compton Hall, Frostburg State Teachers College. The program is sponsored by Frostburg Community Programs and is directed by Peter Lukas. The girls, directed by Mary Catherine Steckman, are, left to right, Dotty Buckingham, Judy Giles, Judy Nee, Bonnie McClellan, Darlene Whalley, Ellen Aldridge, Beverly Brown, and Carole Melvin. Two other members of the unit, Sandy Martz and Chici Bloom were absent when the picture was taken. Mr. Lukas said the cast will include over 100 persons, representing the outstanding song and dance talent of the area.

The Happy Fisherman

There was a fellow at the plant ... always asking me to go with him to church.

In a way this picture portrays his zeal. For there was something boyishly enthusiastic about his eagerness; something joyously genuine in his confidence.

And his fervor reminded one of the disciples of old who became "fishers of men."

Well, he brought my family to church. Not because he was a salesman or a saint. Simply because he encouraged us to seek the convictions he was so eager to share.

Betty and I, and little Ricky, really owe our cherished faith to the moment that fellow at the plant said, "I'LL STOP BY YOUR PLACE ON SUNDAY MORNING."

Now, we too, find happiness in bringing our friends and neighbors to church.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

There was a fellow at the plant who was always asking me to go with him to church.

In a way this picture portrays his zeal. For there was something boyishly enthusiastic about his eagerness; something joyously genuine in his confidence.

And his fervor reminded one of the disciples of old who became "fishers of men."

Well, he brought my family to church. Not because he was a salesman or a saint. Simply because he encouraged us to seek the convictions he was so eager to share.

Betty and I, and little Ricky, really owe our cherished faith to the moment that fellow at the plant said, "I'LL STOP BY YOUR PLACE ON SUNDAY MORNING."

Now, we too, find happiness in bringing our friends and neighbors to church.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Graney Urges Martin Read SRC Reports

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—Road Commissioner Patrick C. Graney suggested Friday that Senate Majority Leader Clarence E. Martin (D-Berkeley) need only read information furnished him to learn where highway money is spent.

A special legislative committee directed an audit of the State Road commission after Martin complained, at a meeting here Monday, that no legislator can find out how much money the SRC has to spend or how it plans to use it.

Graney, who said earlier in the day that his agency will welcome annual independent audits of its finances, lashed back at Martin in a lengthy statement. He said certain statements by the senator "require an answer."

The road commissioner said he found it difficult to understand how any legislator could be in the dark about SRC activities, "especially in the full light of the detailed information we provided. . . during the past legislative session."

He listed 11 specific items, including annual SRC reports for fiscal 1957 and 1958; a proposed 1959 budget; a proposed 10-year road program, and project-by-project lists of proposed construction.

For some reason, Graney said, Martin "did not see fit to attend" a Feb. 2 meeting to which a number of legislators were invited in the SRC conference room. The commissioner said Martin was among those invited.

"At that meeting," Graney said, "we gave the (legislative) members a thorough briefing on our proposed budget and how it was arrived at; what our needs were and why, and how we proposed to spend the money."

Despite his absence, Martin was provided with the 14 SRC documents, the first four of which "showed exactly where road funds were spent in the previous two years and were proposed to be spent in the current year," Graney said.

Wills Probated For Relatives

Wills of a husband and wife who died just a week apart were probated together yesterday in Allegany County Orphans Court.

Both wills also had been drawn on the same day, October 22, 1956.

One was the last testament of Edgar A. Shumaker, who was a 56-year-old resident of 452 Walnut Street at the time of his death, May 26. His brother, Edgar A. Mrs. Shumaker, who died June 2 at the age of 69, had named her husband as executor of her estate. However, she stipulated that her brother-in-law, Edgar A. Clarysville Firemen Seek Old Road Bed

Francis Fatkin, representing the Clarysville Volunteer Fire Company, yesterday asked the Allegany County Board of Commissioners for a portion of the old U. S. Route 40 road bed back of the fire hall.

He said the land is needed to enable the fire company to alleviate a sewage problem. The matter was referred to Leslie J. Clark, county attorney, and Harry T. Skelly, county roads supervisor, for investigation.

The commissioners also approved the permanent employment of Delmer L. Yonker as an equipment operator for the county roads department. He has completed his six months of probationary service.

Delegates are, Post Commander Elwood Hollingsworth and Past Commander Alfred Mason. Alternates are Past Adjutant Clifton E. Brooks, and Roland Baker. All legionaires are privileged to attend.

County Plans To Invest Tax Money

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday decided to work out a program whereby at least $500,000 of county tax money which has been collected so far this month would be invested in U. S. notes or bonds in order to earn interest.

Commissioners William A. Wilson and John Tucker Mason said that in the past the funds were deposited in local banks and no interest gained. Commissioner John J. Rowan agreed with this. The decision to invest the money followed a pre-meeting discussion by the board with James Bishop, county treasurer.

It was brought out at this meeting that a number of sources of state revenues had not resulted in allocation of funds to the county as soon as had been anticipated.

The commissioners were faced with payment of the fourth quarterly fund to the Board of Education of $380,000. The board decided to utilize $160,000 in dormant funds in local banks and other funds on hand to meet this request. About $24,000 balance will be on hand for use between now and the end of the month—and the current fiscal year.

Commissioner Rowan asked Bishop if he would meet at the end of each month with the board in order to obtain a clear picture of the county's financial position. Commissioner Rowan said this would aid the board in matters dealing with expenditures of funds and also would provide information for the public as to the exact status of the county's finances.

The board also decided to contact the state comptroller's office to request that funds allocated to the county from income taxes, horse racing and similar sources be paid promptly. Some of this money has been withheld for varying periods and it poses a problem in the handling of county finances, the commissioners stated.

County Offers Stone At Cost

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday agreed to furnish stone at cost to the owners of 12 residences in the Harold Street section of LaVale for the elimination of a bad sewage condition.

J. Byron Dowling, state sanitarian, appeared before the board to discuss the situation. He told the board that the lots on which the homes were built were too small for proper absorption of the draining from septic tanks. He said the sewage was seeping to the top of the ground and was a health hazard.

The use of the stone and sand in the general area of the septic tank draining field will alleviate the problem, Dowling told the board.

Dowling also told the board that one of the four or five homes in a section off Williams Road which the Health Department had listed as health and fire hazards is occupied by a man and woman who have eight children.

He said the Welfare Board has been unable to find quarters for the family as there is a scarcity of rental properties. Dowling said he wanted to appraise the commissioners of the situation as the owner of the homes has been ordered to either place them in a good state of repair or else raze them.

LaVale Board Issues First Pool Permit

The LaVale Zoning Board Thursday issued its first permit for a swimming pool in that area.

The application was filed by Warren O. Norris of LaVale Avenue to install a pool in his back yard.

The board authorized the permit, subject to safety regulations that will be imposed for all new home pools in the district.

The board was also informed by Abe Feldstein, owner of the Feldstein Iron and Metal Company, that he is proceeding with arrangements for planting of trees around the junk yard area in that community.

Feldstein is undertaking the project in cooperation with the board's zoning code for junk yards.

Lee C. Barnett Jr., the newly appointed member succeeding County Attorney Leslie J. Clark was elected board treasurer. Barnett is a local attorney.

A hearing was set for later this month on a proposal to extend a Commercial A zone a short distance from the present limits, 300 feet off National Highway, at the extreme west end of the zoning district at the foot of Red Hill.

The application was filed by George Waingold, Cumberland real estate agent, in behalf of three property owners on the north side of the highway. These are Charles G. and Dorothy Lee Genevie, Charles A. and Erma M. Genevie and Joseph A. and Teresa B. Smith.

The extension of the Commercial A strip involves about 100 feet of rural residential land in an unimproved wooded section. It is proposed as a site for a shopping center.

A group of National Highway residents headed by R. B. Macbeth appeared concerning the zoning of the bottom land from the junk yard to Super Concrete Company's block plant. They were informed the board will have the regulations ready for a hearing in the near future.

A "Beaver Party" will be held today and tomorrow at Potomac Council Boy Scout Camp near Oldtown in an effort to prepare the camp site for summer schedule.

Willis V. Smith, scout executive, said all kinds of workmen are needed to put the camp in shape when it opens Sunday, June 21.

Some scout units had taken special projects at the camp and will work over the weekend to help put the camp in order. All adults and older youths who are interested in attending the "party" will be welcome at the camp today and tomorrow, Mr. Smith said.

Clarysville Firemen Seek Old Road Bed

Francis Fatkin, representing the Clarysville Volunteer Fire Company, yesterday asked the Allegany County Board of Commissioners for a portion of the old U. S. Route 40 road bed back of the fire hall.

He said the land is needed to enable the fire company to alleviate a sewage problem. The matter was referred to Leslie J. Clark, county attorney, and Harry T. Skelly, county roads supervisor, for investigation.

The commissioners also approved the permanent employment of Delmer L. Yonker as an equipment operator for the county roads department. He has completed his six months of probationary service.

Post Names Delegates

KEYSER — At a recent meeting of Washington-Smith Post, No. 152, American Legion, Department of West Virginia, the following delegates were elected to attend the annual district convention in Martinsburg, Sunday. Delegates are, Post Commander Elwood Hollingsworth and Past Commander Alfred Mason. Alternates are Past Adjutant Clifton E. Brooks, and Roland Baker. All legionaires are privileged to attend.

County Plans To Invest Tax Money

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday decided to work out a program whereby at least $500,000 of county tax money which has been collected so far this month would be invested in U. S. notes or bonds in order to earn interest.

Commissioners William A. Wilson and John Tucker Mason said that in the past the funds were deposited in local banks and no interest gained. Commissioner John J. Rowan agreed with this. The decision to invest the money followed a pre-meeting discussion by the board with James Bishop, county treasurer.

It was brought out at this meeting that a number of sources of state revenues had not resulted in allocation of funds to the county as soon as had been anticipated.

The commissioners were faced with payment of the fourth quarterly fund to the Board of Education of $380,000. The board decided to utilize $160,000 in dormant funds in local banks and other funds on hand to meet this request. About $24,000 balance will be on hand for use between now and the end of the month—and the current fiscal year.

Commissioner Rowan asked Bishop if he would meet at the end of each month with the board in order to obtain a clear picture of the county's financial position. Commissioner Rowan said this would aid the board in matters dealing with expenditures of funds and also would provide information for the public as to the exact status of the county's finances.

The board also decided to contact the state comptroller's office to request that funds allocated to the county from income taxes, horse racing and similar sources be paid promptly. Some of this money has been withheld for varying periods and it poses a problem in the handling of county finances, the commissioners stated.

County Offers Stone At Cost

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday agreed to furnish stone at cost to the owners of 12 residences in the Harold Street section of LaVale for the elimination of a bad sewage condition.

J. Byron Dowling, state sanitarian, appeared before the board to discuss the situation. He told the board that the lots on which the homes were built were too small for proper absorption of the draining from septic tanks. He said the sewage was seeping to the top of the ground and was a health hazard.

The use of the stone and sand in the general area of the septic tank draining field will alleviate the problem, Dowling told the board.

Dowling also told the board that one of the four or five homes in a section off Williams Road which the Health Department had listed as health and fire hazards is occupied by a man and woman who have eight children.

He said the Welfare Board has been unable to find quarters for the family as there is a scarcity of rental properties. Dowling said he wanted to appraise the commissioners of the situation as the owner of the homes has been ordered to either place them in a good state of repair or else raze them.

About 98 per cent of Sweden's population has access to electricity.

LaVale Board Issues First Pool Permit

The LaVale Zoning Board Thursday issued its first permit for a swimming pool in that area.

The application was filed by Warren O. Norris of LaVale Avenue to install a pool in his back yard.

The board authorized the permit, subject to safety regulations that will be imposed for all new home pools in the district.

The board was also informed by Abe Feldstein, owner of the Feldstein Iron and Metal Company, that he is proceeding with arrangements for planting of trees around the junk yard area in that community.

Feldstein is undertaking the project in cooperation with the board's zoning code for junk yards.

Lee C. Barnett Jr., the newly appointed member succeeding County Attorney Leslie J. Clark was elected board treasurer. Barnett is a local attorney.

A hearing was set for later this month on a proposal to extend a Commercial A zone a short distance from the present limits, 300 feet off National Highway, at the extreme west end of the zoning district at the foot of Red Hill.

The application was filed by George Waingold, Cumberland real estate agent, in behalf of three property owners on the north side of the highway. These are Charles G. and Dorothy Lee Genevie, Charles A. and Erma M. Genevie and Joseph A. and Teresa B. Smith.

The extension of the Commercial A strip involves about 100 feet of rural residential land in an unimproved wooded section. It is proposed as a site for a shopping center.

A group of National Highway residents headed by R. B. Macbeth appeared concerning the zoning of the bottom land from the junk yard to Super Concrete Company's block plant. They were informed the board will have the regulations ready for a hearing in the near future.

City Playground Leaders To Take Training Course

A three day, 18-hour training course for 14 city playground leaders will be held June 17, 18 and 19, the Recreation Department announced yesterday.

The training is a prelude to the opening of city-operated playgrounds Monday, June 22.

Mrs. Eva M. Hogan, assistant recreation director, who is in charge of the program, said the following schedule will be followed for the training course:

Wednesday, June 17: Meet at 10 a. m. at City Hall auditorium. This first session will be devoted to administration duties including registration, attendance, requisitions, accidents, weekly schedules, playground hours, discipline, intra-city events, clubs and playground newspapers.

Thursday, June 18: Meet at 10 a. m. at North End Playground field house. The morning session will be devoted to handicrafts with Mrs. Marian Wilson, arts and crafts specialist in charge. Demonstrations of papier mache, clay work, mosaics, woodwork and busy handicrafts will be given. At 11 a. m. Mrs. Earle Cobey of the Education Committee of the Allegany County Animal Welfare Society, and Mrs. Edward Finan, staff member of the society, will discuss a plan for individual pet clubs which will culminate in the citywide pet show July 15. From 2 to 4 p. m., Allegany County Chapter, American Red Cross will provide an instructor for first aid training for leaders.

Friday, June 19: Meet at 10 a. m. at North End field house. All types of games will be discussed and learned. In addition to the usual blacktop games, quiet games such as Kalah, checkers, stock car racing and horse racing will be considered. In the afternoon, high-organized games instruction will be in charge of Mrs. Dorothy Heavner, playground supervisor. Volleyball, three-man basketball, pigtail softball, box hockey, horseshoes, handball, center pitch, forest fire, animal.., London and pavement ball will be among the games. A new offering this year is the playground pentathlon.

Recreation Director C. Eugene Mason said major playground equipment is being installed and grounds checked by the maintenance crew headed by Carl Wolfe. Small equipment will be distributed to playgrounds the morning of opening day.

An order will go to the Mayor and Council Monday for hiring of program leaders. All playgrounds will have one leader and each will be on a 30-hour week. The six-hour playground day Monday through Friday will be divided into sessions and each will have a specific program. On evenings when the playgrounds are not open, it is hoped to obtain volunteer workers to handle distribution and collection of play equipment.

The daily time schedule for playgrounds is as follows: Monday, 10 a. m. to 1 p. m. and 2 p. m. to 5 p. m.; Tuesday, 1 to 4 p. m. and 6 to 9 p. m.; Wednesday, 10 a. m. to 1 p. m. and 2 p. m. to 5 p. m.; Thursday, 10 a. m. to 1 p. m. and 6 to 9 p. m. for intra-city events; Friday, 10 a. m. to noon, playground leaders will meet each week at City Hall for in-service training and reports. Playgrounds will be open from 6 to 9 p. m.

•Another Birthday For Old Glory

This Flag Day Americans will again pay that annual special salute to the Stars and Stripes. The origin of Old Glory is lost in myth and legend. Historians have discarded the familiar story that Betsy Ross made the first flag from a pencil sketch given her by Washington—a story first told by her grandson 94 years after the supposed event. They also doubt that the devices evolved from Washington's coat of arms.

The colonies had no common flag when the Revolutionary War broke out. The Great Union flag, with 13 alternate red and white stripes and the crosses of St. George and St. Andrew, was raised for the first time by Washington in 1776. The crosses symbolized loyalty to the crown and soon fell out of favor.

On June 14, 1777, Congress, by resolution, created the Stars and Stripes. The 13 stripes supplanted the Great Union flag. The stars formed a circle.

Who conceived the idea for the 13 stripes to represent the 13 original colonies and later the field of stars? The question remains unanswered. The claim of Francis Hopkinson, a signer of the Declaration of Independence, may be the soundest. Records show he received nine pounds for his flag design.

From practical standpoint, the design has stood all tests. Other nations boast national ensigns, but in many the original significance is lost in historical mist.

Tomorrow, as Americans look aloft to the flag on Flag Day, they may justifiably sense a new pride in their nation and their political heritage. The flag's chief symbolism of old still stands — political freedom for all.

Better Get Back To The Jacks

NATO, At Tenth Anniversary, Is At Lowest Ebb Since Its Start

By Drew Pearson

LONDON—George Brown, Labor Member of Parliament, raven-haired, ruddy-cheeked, cultured of speech, was addressing the Atlantic Congress.

"I am worried about our military strength," he told the delegates from 14 NATO countries. "Our military commanders have one thought, our political leaders another. We could not today operate a joint command in the maritime field. We have not today coordinated our air defense. We have not followed a common policy of standardizing our weapons.

"We have armament factories in our country which want orders. We know, as members of Parliament, that constituents come to us and say we'll be out of employment if those factories don't get orders. So since some arms would have to be manufactured outside our country, we have not standardized armament.

"We have withdrawn some of our British units from the NATO shield. Other governments have failed to put in all the forces they promised," Brown continued, referring to the French diversion of troops to Algeria. "We face very grave problems. Our governments are not facing those problems. And we are not addressing our governments with anywhere near enough vigor."

House of Commons member Brown got a thunderous ovation. What he said summarized what 90 per cent of the delegates attending the cross-section of peoples from the NATO countries deeply felt.

NATO's Lowest Ebb

For, while celebrating its 10th anniversary, the inescapable conclusion of these delegates was that never had NATO strength dragged so low, n ver had the strength of the Soviet been so great. As the Atlantic Congress met, the following discouraging events were happening:

1. De Gaulle served notice that American-NATO nuclear forces must clear out of France unless France gets control of atomic weapons.

2. Chancellor Adenauer had just struck a blow at German democracy by decreeing on his own that he would continue to run Germany.

3. Russian stubbornness at Geneva, as every delegate knew, was based on confidence born of the Soviet missile buildup, plus knowledge of NATO weakness.

Finally came reports from the USA that beginning next week Congressman Holifield of California would hold a sensational investigation of radioactive fallout showing that atomic war would literally end most human life in Russia and the United States.

Scientists testifying before Holifield's committee will show that if enough megatons of hydrogen bombs are dropped on Russian military targets the radioactive fallout coming back to the USA would destroy the USA. Likewise, if Russia dropped enough megatons to put American targets out of commission, the subsequent radioactive fallout would put Russia out of commission.

European delegates to the Atlantic Congress speculated as to what would happen to west European countries in between. The answer is: They too would be put out of commission.

Proposals For Future

Against this alarming backdrop of free world affairs, delegates to the Atlantic Congress worked. They paid their own expenses, worked long hours — all day Saturday and from 11 a. m. to 10 p. m. Sunday. Their power was only to recommend and mobilize public opinion. It was a people-to-people conference. But since many were members of the U. S. Congress or European parliaments, and others, such as Paul Henri Spaak served as Secretary General of NATO, they had considerable influence for accomplishment.

No cure-alls came from these deliberations. There are no cure-alls outside dictatorships. But some of the proposals to strengthen NATO and the free world were:

A. A psychological warfare information office inside NATO. When the war stopped, the coordination of allied intelligence was abandoned. It was urged that it be revived.

B. A free world association to mobilize and strengthen public opinion in the free world.

C. An allied radio station, "The Voice of Unity," to unify the free world and win friends elsewhere.

D. A meeting of heads of government of NATO countries once a year.

E. Eliminate voting on the NATO Council.

"Let's face the fact that Luxembourg does not carry the same weight as the United States," said French Deputy Maurice Faure, "yet in the present council of NATO her vote counts just as much."

Like the U. N. Security Council, one NATO country, no matter how small, can veto all others.

These were some of the problems debated and discussed, first in secret subcommittee meetings, then in full committee, finally in open plenary session. They were sessions in which Gen. Lauris Norstad, the commander of NATO, and Dr. Mordecai Johnson, son of an African slave and now president of Howard University, were heard with respect.

What comes of these and other recommendations remains to be seen. But the mere exchange of debate among labor leaders, businessmen, ambassadors, and generals was an inspiring example of people-to-people democracy.

Importance Of Being Earnest In Diplomacy

By Joseph Alsop

LONDON

Imagine the American Foreign Service being so organized that every key officer in every legation and consulate in all the Arab lands, for instance, could speak fair Arabic. (In practice, almost none of them, either in the Arab lands or in any other uncommitted country, for that matter, can rise much higher than ordering a meal in a restaurant.)

Imagine the United States mobilizing for the struggle for the world to the point where we could provide huge, well-equipped, camp-universities to give special training for our potential friends in the uncommitted countries. (In practice, the American fellowship programs for overseas students and leading foreign personalities are not only small in scale; they are also constantly menaced with further cuts by both Congress and the Bureau of the Budget.)

Imagine a foreign aid program so tough-minded yet so flexible that its methods would be tailored to each special situation, serving our interests in all cases without regard to political prejudice, paper work rules, or do-good poppycock. (In this case, the contrast between imagination and practice is really too painful to dwell on.)

For us in the United States, such things really seem unimaginable. But they are very far indeed from being unimaginable on the Communist side of the line that divides the world. All three situations above-described are in fact drawn from an eye-opening study of Communist methods in the struggle for the uncommitted countries by Britain's former Minister of Defense, Brig. Antony Head.

It is tempting to devote a good many thousand words to the material that Brig. Head has now accumulated. One known training school for African Communists, for example, provides facilities in Czechoslovakia for 3,000 men and women drawn from all over Africa. Another training school for South East Asian Communists, situated in Hunan Province in China, has the incredible but well authenticated total of 30,000 students drawn from Indonesia, Cambodia, Thailand, Malaya, Burma, Laos, and Vietnam.

Again, the program is worked out in such elaborate detail that pro-Communist versions of the most obscure tribal myths are being peddled in Africa in the original tribal dialects. Yet the broad principles have been established with such ruthless clarity that penetrable countries are divided into three classes: Class I, where jolly cooperation "with the bourgeois" is desirable, as in Egypt until recently; Class II, where more open support for the Communists is permissible, as in Iraq at present; and Class III, where all support is concentrated behind the local Communists, as in Vietnam before the truce there.

But the temptation to tell Brig. Head's remarkable story in still greater detail must be resisted. There are reasons to hope that this exceptionally intelligent and original-minded Englishman will shortly be telling his own story here in the United States, as he has already told it in the House of Commons. As it is very much his story, composed of data which he has gathered almost single-handed, the job of telling it in full must be left to him.

The foregoing facts are borrowed from Head, simply because they are the best available proof of the importance of being reasonably earnest about the vast struggle for the world. As this reporter packs for the return journey to Washington, the thing that sticks in his craw like a poisoned chicken bone is the danger of our own lack of earnestness.

Nikita Khrushchev may smile and smile, between gestures with his H-bombs. Andrei Gromyko may force himself to be relatively polite. But all the while, these men of the Kremlin and their Communist collaborators in other countries are in deadly earnest, endlessly searching for weak points in the armor of the West, endlessly organizing to exploit the West's weaknesses whenever and wherever these appear. Khrushchev and Gromyko and the rest of them are not bored with the Geneva conference, for example, and they are not complacent about the outcome, either. They are just as intensely interested, they are just as lacking in complacency, as hungry, hovering hawks.

Of course Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and his staff are not bored, either. On the contrary, their vigilance and stoutness at Geneva have been altogether admirable. But judging by the reports from home, the mood in Washington is flatulently complacent; and so it seems to be in most of the Western capitals. Yet if the West is beaten at Berlin, and if the Communists win the uncommitted countries, and if other quite imaginable defeats are inflicted on us, lack of earnestness will be the chief cause.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Austrian Gold

It looks as though the meek shall indeed inherit the Earth. At a time when the United States is raising the interest rate on its bonds, tiny Austria announces that its is among the hardest of all currencies. The "ultra hard" currencies are said to be the Austrian schilling, the West German mark, the Swiss franc and the Venezuelan bolivar. In a word, the best money, that is, money soundly secured, is in these comparatively small countries.

The Austrian statement, issued by Curtis J. Hoxter, Inc., reads:

"These latest figures on the Austrian economy reveal that the nation's total banknote circulation now stands at $569,230,000. (One Schilling = approximately $.04). Against this the Austrian National Bank holds 38.3% gold ($218,230,000) and 83.2% hard foreign currency, mostly dollars ($273,076,000). Total present reserves in the Austrian treasury are $691,306,000, giving the Schilling a cover of 121.5%."

Of course, the weakness in this statement is the fact that the American dollar, which is now a variable currency, is so great a factor in Austria's hardness.

In an inflationary period, currency tends to grow increasingly fluid. What that means is that money loses in value, both in domestic purchasing power and in international exchange value. Since World War II began, the basic currency of the world has been the dollar. Prior to World War I, for several centuries, the basic currency of the commercial world was the British pound sterling. All currencies were exchanged on the ratio of their value to the pound sterling. During and after World War II, the dollar has taken the place of the pound sterling.

The American dollar is secured on 25 per cent gold and 75 per cent confidence in the wealth, progress and stability of the United States. You will note that little Austria secures its schilling on 38.3 per cent gold.

Money is a matter of confidence. If I have a dollar and want to spend it, I want to get a dollar's worth back in some kind of value. That involves a meeting of the minds of giver and receiver as to what is value. For instance, in Canada, the American dollar is presently worth 96 cents, which means that on the dollar, I lose four cents; on $100, I lose $4; on $1,000, I lose $40.

Who needs to lose money which just goes up in the air? At the beginning of World War I, a British pound sterling was worth $4.85; today, it is worth $2.78. This represents a great loss in value, a wiping out of billions of dollars of value in Great Britain. It explains Great Britain's dependence upon the United States over a long period of years.

But there is another side to this. In the determination of price, many factors enter into the picture. An automobile sold retail, let us say, in Rio de Janeiro originates in Detroit, and is bought with American dollars which are hard and high as compared with the cruzeiros which are soft and inflated. That automobile represents the cost of American labor which has to be translated into the American standard of living which is the most extravagant and most costly on Earth. American taxes which are high, and American shipping which is costly. In Rio, that automobile is sold for cruzeiros which is a soft currency suffering from governmental extravagances.

This same automobile, let us say, a Ford or a General Motors car, made in England or West Germany, can be bought in Rio for less in cruzeiros. In a word, not only has the United States outpriced itself in world markets, but American industry has built businesses in European countries using European currencies and tax structures as well as labor costs, making it possible to sell at a lower cost than the American made car.

The problem for the United States is serious because we have increased our plant to include about $6,000,000,000 of foreign trade annually. During World War II and for a considerable period thereafter, only the United States could supply goods and much of it, we gave away without any compensation.

Now the beneficiaries of our charity have grown strong and are able to compete with us. Their advantages are so enormous that it is not at all impossible that we shall exclude ourselves from many markets. As one man put it: "The United States has put an export tax on itself without knowing it."

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

May 27 has come and gone and Berlin is quiet. This fact, though negative, represents a victory for the Western powers. It also represents another case in which the Russian Bear's growl was worse than its bite.

While diplomatic and military leaders are breathing a little easier because the crisis deadline set by Soviet Premier Khrushchev has passed, it has not lessened long-term Western concern over the Russian effort to oust the Allied powers from West Berlin.

No diplomat doubts that this is an ultimate goal of the Soviet leadership, or that Russia will not try another maneuver, perhaps at another time, to achieve it.

Prior to May 27 the question uppermost in the State Department was whether Russia wanted a summit conference or the Allies out of Berlin most. Time has now provided the answer — their priority was for a summit meeting.

This knowledge is of great value to the West, and conversely of great damage to the Communist position in negotiations. For the West can now bargain harder, compromise less in pre-summit maneuverings.

The question still remains — what does Khrushchev want to achieve at a summit meeting?

The Seven-Year Plan

By Leslie Gould

(Russia is embarking on a new seven-year plan, which Khrushchev promises will make the Soviet's per capita output the highest in Europe, Leslie Gould reports in this eighth article of his series on Russia's economy.)

Russia is starting a seven-year plan, which Khrushchev says will advance Soviet industry to first place in Europe in per capita output and:

"By 1970 — perhaps sooner — the Soviet Union will surpass the United States, reaching first place in the world in total output and in output per head of population, ensuring the Soviet people the highest living standards in the world."

According to this same "source" the Iron Curtain countries by 1965 will be producing more than half of the world's total industrial output.

Khrushchev says while Russia is competing with America, "we do not regard the U.S.A. as a standard of economic development.

"For, though it has a highly-developed economy, the U.S.A. is dominated by the vice-ridden capitalist mode of production and distribution. While it has a profusion of every kind of goods, it also has millions of unemployed, and millions with inadequate income, who cannot satisfy even their most elemental needs.

"The Communists do not want to imitate that order of things."

Apropos of this, there is a current story making the rounds about an old Russian who applied for a visa to the Western World. He was asked by a Soviet official:

"Why do you want to do such a foolish thing, old man? Don't you realize that it won't be long before we catch up with and pass the United States?"

To which the old Russian replied:

"When you catch up with them, will you let me get out?"

Like the old man, Khrushchev can dream, too.

A lot of the seven-year plan is made out of the same stuff dreams are.

The Russian worker doesn't know this, for he doesn't know and has virtually no way of finding out how the Western World lives. However, he is better off today than he was 10 or 15 years ago — which isn't saying very much by other than Russian standards.

Russia has done a remarkable job in many material things, sputniks and aviation to name two — and even more so in the ethereal field of propaganda. But overall there is no comparison, for example, to what the West Germans have and are doing. Russia is still a very primitive country, about where the U.S. was 50 years ago.

The emphasis of the seven-year plan is on consumer goods, but whether the goals can be achieved will depend on the break between this kind of output and that for military. Also on the available manpower and how much worker productivity improves.

Here, in brief, is the seven-year program compared with the U.S. current output:

STEEL — to raise production by 1965 from 1958's 55 million tons to 86 to 91 million tons. Present U.S. steel capacity is 147.6 million tons.

ROLLED STEEL — from 42 million tons to 65 to 70 million tons. The U.S. produced 65 million tons last year, but has a much higher capacity.

GAS — from 30 billion cubic meters to 150 billion. The U.S. currently has 305 billion cubic meter production. The American figures do not include gas returned to wells for storage.

OIL — from 113 million tons to 230 to 240 million tons. U.S. is currently producing 335½ million metric tons.

ELECTRICITY — from 233 billion kilowatt hours to 500 to 520 billion kwh. The U.S. is now generating 724 billion kwh.

COAL — from 500 million tons to 596 to 609 million tons. U.S. is mining 412 million metric tons, but coal is no longer the major source of energy.

TRUCKS — from 372,000 to 650,000, and buses from 10,000 to 40,000. U.S. does not break down the two, but production last year of trucks and buses was 650,711.

AUTOS — from 114,000 cars to 170,000. U.S. in 1958 — a poor year — turned out 4,224,005 autos and will make around 6 million this year. It has the capacity for 8 million.

Medical Preparation For Summer Vacation

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Are you prepared medically for your summer vacation? Travel calls for a variety of inoculations, some of which are mandatory for trips abroad.

Polio may be on the warpath in the communities you pass through or stay in. It is safer to be protected. Begin the three injections immediately or ask for the fourth shot if you received the older vaccine a year or two ago.

Tetanus is an easy disease to prevent but difficult to treat once it gains a foothold. The causative germs may be anywhere and they enter the body through a puncture wound. Accidents, cuts, scratches, and bruises are commoner during the summer when most of us spend more time out of doors.

It makes sense to be protected against a disease that may prove fatal. Three primary shots of the toxoid are required and a single booster dose is given whenever an injury occurs. This is preferred to the injection of tetanus antitoxin at the time of the accident as it is made from horse serum to which some persons are sensitive.

Everyone who travels abroad—before re-admission to this country — needs a certificate stating that vaccination against smallpox has been done within three years. Immunization against other diseases depends upon where the globetrotter expects to go.

Typhoid and paratyphoid inoculations are not necessary for those going to Europe but are recommended when the individual plans to visit out of the way places, especially in countries where sanitation is lax. These injections are strongly advised, and in some instances mandatory, for those planning to visit parts of Africa, India, Asia, and Latin America.

Scattered outbreaks of diptheria develop here and abroad. Most children have been protected but many adults have lost their immunity. Some need a booster dose; others, the primary injections. A Schick skin test should be done first to determine whether the individual is susceptible to disease.

SCARRED VALVE

H. J. writes: Is there any hope for a person with a severely scarred heart valve?

REPLY

Yes. Many victims of this condition live a normal and comfortable life provided exertion is kept within reasonable limits and infections, such as a strep throat, are brought under control immediately. Surgery remains an ace in the hole. The individual you inquire about should be thankful he is living at a time when lesions of this nature can be corrected through surgery, with marvelous results.

PROMINENT VEINS

REPLY

The veins along the backs of the hands are more prominent in individuals who do hard manual labor and in those who have little or no fat under the skin. Now and then the blood vessels are more tortuous than normal or the valves of the veins are extremely prominent. I assume you are not referring to lumps under the skin.

ORGANS WON'T STICK

M. V. writes: If you sleep on one side every night, will the internal organs adhere to the down side?

REPLY

No. The internal organs (viscera) are covered with a shiny covering (peritoneum) that prevents them from sticking together. They adhere only when this membrane becomes irritated by inflammation. This makes the surface sticky and causes adhesions to form.

CHECKUP

Mrs. J. writes: My physician is always bragging about his schooling and degrees. Is there any way I can check up on him?

•Another Birthday For Old Glory

This Flag Day Americans will again pay that annual special salute to the Stars and Stripes. The origin of Old Glory is lost in myth and legend. Historians have discarded the familiar story that Betsy Ross made the first flag from a pencil sketch given her by Washington—a story first told by her grandson 94 years after the supposed event. They also doubt that the devices evolved from Washington's coat of arms.

The colonies had no common flag when the Revolutionary War broke out. The Great Union flag, with 13 alternate red and white stripes and the crosses of St. George and St. Andrew, was raised for the first time by Washington in 1776. The crosses symbolized loyalty to the crown and soon fell out of favor.

On June 14, 1777, Congress, by resolution, created the Stars and Stripes. The 13 stripes supplanted the Great Union flag. The stars formed a circle.

Who conceived the idea for the 13 stripes to represent the 13 original colonies and later the field of stars? The question remains unanswered. The claim of Francis Hopkinson, a signer of the Declaration of Independence, may be the soundest. Records show he received nine pounds for his flag design.

From practical standpoint, the design has stood all tests. Other nations boast national ensigns, but in many the original significance is lost in historical mist.

Tomorrow, as Americans look aloft to the flag on Flag Day, they may justifiably sense a new pride in their nation and their political heritage. The flag's chief symbolism of old still stands — political freedom for all.

Better Get Back To The Jacks

NATO, At Tenth Anniversary, Is At Lowest Ebb Since Its Start

By Drew Pearson

LONDON—George Brown, Labor Member of Parliament, raven-haired, ruddy-cheeked, cultured of speech, was addressing the Atlantic Congress.

"I am worried about our military strength," he told the delegates from 14 NATO countries. "Our military commanders have one thought, our political leaders another. We could not today operate a joint command in the maritime field. We have not today coordinated our air defense. We have not followed a common policy of standardizing our weapons.

"We have armament factories in our country which want orders. We know, as members of Parliament, that constituents come to us and say we'll be out of employment if those factories don't get orders. So since some arms would have to be manufactured outside our country, we have not standardized armament.

"We have withdrawn some of our British units from the NATO shield. Other governments have failed to put in all the forces they promised," Brown continued, referring to the French diversion of troops to Algeria. "We face very grave problems. Our governments are not facing those problems. And we are not addressing our governments with anywhere near enough vigor."

House of Commons member Brown got a thunderous ovation. What he said summarized what 90 per cent of the delegates attending the cross-section of peoples from the NATO countries deeply felt.

NATO's Lowest Ebb

For, while celebrating its 10th anniversary, the inescapable conclusion of these delegates was that never had NATO strength dragged so low, never had the strength of the Soviet been so great. As the Atlantic Congress met, the following discouraging events were happening:

1. De Gaulle served notice that American-NATO nuclear forces must clear out of France unless France gets control of atomic weapons.

2. Chancellor Adenauer had just struck a blow at German democracy by decreeing on his own that he would continue to run Germany.

3. Russian stubbornness at Geneva, as every delegate knew, was based on confidence born of the Soviet missile buildup, plus knowledge of NATO weakness.

Finally came reports from the USA that beginning next week Congressman Holifield of California would hold a sensational investigation of radioactive fallout showing that atomic war would literally end most human life in Russia and the United States.

Scientists testifying before Holifield's committee will show that if enough megatons of hydrogen bombs are dropped on Russian military targets the radioactive fallout coming back to the USA would destroy the USA. Likewise, if Russia dropped enough megatons to put American targets out of commission, the subsequent radioactive fallout would put Russia out of commission.

European delegates to the Atlantic Congress speculated as to what would happen to west European countries in between. The answer is: They too would be put out of commission.

Proposals For Future

Against this alarming backdrop of free world affairs, delegates to the Atlantic Congress worked. They paid their own expenses, worked long hours — all day Saturday and from 11 a. m. to 10 p. m. Sunday. Their power was only to recommend and mobilize public opinion. It was a people-to-people conference. But since many were members of the U. S. Congress or European parliaments, and others, such as Paul Henri Spaak served as Secretary General of NATO, they had considerable influence for accomplishment.

No cure-alls came from these deliberations. There are no cure-alls outside dictatorships. But some of the proposals to strengthen NATO and the free world were:

A. A psychological warfare information office inside NATO. When the war stopped, the coordination of allied intelligence was abandoned. It was urged that it be revived.

B. A free world association to mobilize and strengthen public opinion in the free world.

C. An allied radio station, "The Voice of Unity," to unify the free world and win friends elsewhere.

D. A meeting of heads of government of NATO countries once a year.

E. Eliminate voting on the NATO Council.

"Let's face the fact that Luxembourg does not carry the same weight as the United States," said French Deputy Maurice Faure, "yet in the present council of NATO her vote counts just as much."

Like the U. N. Security Council, one NATO country, no matter how small, can veto all others.

These were some of the problems debated and discussed, first in secret subcommittee meetings, then in full committee, finally in open plenary session. They were sessions in which Gen. Lauris Norstad, the commander of NATO, and Dr. Mordecai Johnson, son of an African slave and now president of Howard University, were heard with respect.

What comes of these and other recommendations remains to be seen. But the mere exchange of debate among labor leaders, businessmen, ambassadors, and generals was an inspiring example of people-to-people democracy.

Importance Of Being Earnest In Diplomacy

By Joseph Alsop

LONDON

Imagine the American Foreign Service being so organized that every key officer in every legation and consulate in all the Arab lands, for instance, could speak fair Arabic. (In practice, almost none of them, either in the Arab lands or in any other uncommitted country, for that matter, can rise much higher than ordering a meal in a restaurant.)

Imagine the United States mobilizing for the struggle for the world to the point where we could provide huge, well-equipped, camp-universities to give special training for our potential friends in the uncommitted countries. (In practice, the American fellowship programs for overseas students and leading foreign personalities are not only small in scale; they are also constantly menaced with further cuts by both Congress and the Bureau of the Budget.)

Imagine a foreign aid program so tough-minded yet so flexible that its methods would be tailored to each special situation, serving our interests in all cases without regard to political prejudice, paper work rules, or do-good poppycock. (In this case, the contrast between imagination and practice is really too painful to dwell on.)

For us in the United States, such things really seem unimaginable. But they are very far indeed from being unimaginable on the Communist side of the line that divides the world. All three situations above-described are in fact drawn from an eye-opening study of Communist methods in the struggle for the uncommitted countries by Britain's former Minister of Defense, Brig. Antony Head.

It is tempting to devote a good many thousand words to the material that Brig. Head has now accumulated. One known training school for African Communists, for example, provides facilities in Czechoslovakia for 3,000 men and women drawn from all over Africa. Another training school for South East Asian Communists, situated in Hunan Province in China, has the incredible but well authenticated total of 30,000 students drawn from Indonesia, Cambodia, Thailand, Malaya, Burma, Laos, and Vietnam.

Again, the program is worked out in such elaborate detail that pro-Communist versions of the most obscure tribal myths are being peddled in Africa in the original tribal dialects. Yet the broad principles have been established with such ruthless clarity that penetrable countries are divided into three classes: Class I, where jolly cooperation "with the bourgeois" is desirable, as in Egypt until recently; Class II, where more open support for the Communists is permissible, as in Iraq at present; and Class III, where all support is concentrated behind the local Communists, as in Vietnam before the truce there.

But the temptation to tell Brig. Head's remarkable story in still greater detail must be resisted. There are reasons to hope that this exceptionally intelligent and original-minded Englishman will shortly be telling his own story here in the United States, as he has already told it in the House of Commons. As it is very much his story, composed of data which he has gathered almost single-handed, the job of telling it in full must be left to him.

The foregoing facts are borrowed from Head, simply because they are the best available proof of the importance of being reasonably earnest about the vast struggle for the world. As this reporter packs for the return journey to Washington, the thing that sticks in his craw like a poisoned chicken bone is the danger of our own lack of earnestness.

Nikita Khrushchev may smile and smile, between gestures with his H-bombs. Andrei Gromyko may force himself to be relatively polite. But all the while, these men of the Kremlin and their Communist collaborators in other countries are in deadly earnest, endlessly searching for weak points in the armor of the West, endlessly organizing to exploit the West's weaknesses whenever and wherever these appear. Khrushchev and Gromyko and the rest of them are not bored with the Geneva conference, for example, and they are not complacent about the outcome, either. They are just as intensely interested, they are just as lacking in complacency, as hungry, hovering hawks.

Of course Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and his staff are not bored, either. On the contrary, their vigilance and stoutness at Geneva have been altogether admirable. But judging by the reports from home, the mood in Washington is flatulently complacent; and so it seems to be in most of the Western capitals. Yet if the West is beaten at Berlin, and if the Communists win the uncommitted countries, and if other quite imaginable defeats are inflicted on us, lack of earnestness will be the chief cause.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Austrian Gold

It looks as though the meek shall indeed inherit the Earth. At a time when the United States is raising the interest rate on its bonds, tiny Austria announces that its is among the hardest of all currencies. The "ultra hard" currencies are said to be the Austrian schilling, the West German mark, the Swiss franc and the Venezuelan bolivar. In a word, the best money, that is, money soundly secured, is in these comparatively small countries.

The Austrian statement, issued by Curtis J. Hoxter, Inc., reads:

"These latest figures on the Austrian economy reveal that the nation's total banknote circulation now stands at $569,230,000. (One Schilling = approximately $.04). Against this the Austrian National Bank holds 38.3% gold ($218,230,000) and 83.2% hard foreign currency, mostly dollars ($273,076,000). Total present reserves in the Austrian treasury are $691,306,000, giving the Schilling a cover of 121.5%."

Of course, the weakness in this statement is the fact that the American dollar, which is now a variable currency, is so great a factor in Austria's hardness.

In an inflationary period, currency tends to grow increasingly fluid. What that means is that money loses in value, both in domestic purchasing power and in international exchange value. Since World War II began, the basic currency of the world has been the dollar. Prior to World War I, for several centuries, the basic currency of the commercial world was the British pound sterling. All currencies were exchanged on the ratio of their value to the pound sterling. During and after World War II, the dollar has taken the place of the pound sterling.

The American dollar is secured on 25 per cent gold and 75 per cent confidence in the wealth, progress and stability of the United States. You will note that little Austria secures its schilling on 38.3 per cent gold.

Money is a matter of confidence. If I have a dollar and want to spend it, I want to get a dollar's worth back in some kind of value. That involves a meeting of the minds of giver and receiver as to what is value. For instance, in Canada, the American dollar is presently worth 96 cents, which means that on the dollar, I lose four cents; on $100, I lose $4; on $1,000, I lose $40.

Who needs to lose money which just goes up in the air? At the beginning of World War I, a British pound sterling was worth $4.85; today, it is worth $2.78. This represents a great loss in value, a wiping out of billions of dollars of value in Great Britain. It explains Great Britain's dependence upon the United States over a long period of years.

But there is another side to this. In the determination of price, many factors enter into the picture. An automobile sold retail, let us say, in Rio de Janeiro originates in Detroit, and is bought with American dollars which are hard and high as compared with the cruzeiros which are soft and inflated. That automobile represents the cost of American labor which has to be translated into the American standard of living which is the most extravagant and most costly on Earth. American taxes which are high, and American shipping which is costly. In Rio, that automobile is sold for cruzeiros which is a soft currency suffering from governmental extravagances.

This same automobile, let us say, a Ford or a General Motors car, made in England or West Germany, can be bought in Rio for less in cruzeiros. In a word, not only has the United States outpriced itself in world markets, but American industry has built businesses in European countries using European currencies and tax structures as well as labor costs, making it possible to sell at a lower cost than the American made car.

The problem for the United States is serious because we have increased our plant to include about $6,000,000,000 of foreign trade annually. During World War II and for a considerable period thereafter, only the United States could supply goods and much of it, we gave away without any compensation.

Now the beneficiaries of our charity have grown strong and are able to compete with us. Their advantages are so enormous that it is not at all impossible that we shall exclude ourselves from many markets. As one man put it: "The United States has put an export tax on itself without knowing it."

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

May 27 has come and gone and Berlin is quiet. This fact, though negative, represents a victory for the Western powers. It also represents another case in which the Russian Bear's growl was worse than its bite.

While diplomatic and military leaders are breathing a little easier because the crisis deadline set by Soviet Premier Khrushchev has passed, it has not lessened long-term Western concern over the Russian effort to oust the Allied powers from West Berlin.

No diplomat doubts that this is an ultimate goal of the Soviet leadership, or that Russia will not try another maneuver, perhaps at another time, to achieve it.

Prior to May 27 the question uppermost in the State Department was whether Russia wanted a summit conference or the Allies out of Berlin most. Time has now provided the answer — their priority was for a summit meeting.

This knowledge is of great value to the West, and conversely of great damage to the Communist position in negotiations. For the West can now bargain harder, compromise less in pre-summit maneuverings.

The question still remains — what does Khrushchev want to achieve at a summit meeting?

The Seven-Year Plan

By Leslie Gould

(Russia is embarking on a new seven-year plan, which Khrushchev promises will make the Soviet's per capita output the highest in Europe. Leslie Gould reports in this eighth article of his series on Russia's economy.)

Russia is starting a seven-year plan, which Khrushchev says will advance Soviet industry to first place in Europe in per capita output and:

"By 1970 — perhaps sooner — the Soviet Union will surpass the United States, reaching first place in the world in total output and in output per head of population, ensuring the Soviet people the highest living standards in the world."

According to this same "source" the Iron Curtain countries by 1965 will be producing more than half of the world's total industrial output.

Khrushchev says while Russia is competing with America, "we do not regard the U.S.A. as a standard of economic development.

"For, though it has a highly-developed economy, the U.S.A. is dominated by the vice-ridden capitalist mode of production and distribution. While it has a profusion of every kind of goods, it also has millions of unemployed, and millions with inadequate income, who cannot satisfy even their most elemental needs.

"The Communists do not want to imitate that order of things."

Apropos of this, there is a current story making the rounds about an old Russian who applied for a visa to the Western World. He was asked by a Soviet official:

"Why do you want to do such a foolish thing, old man? Don't you realize that it won't be long before we catch up with and pass the United States?"

To which the old Russian replied:

"When you catch up with them, will you let me get out?"

Like the old man, Khrushchev can dream, too.

A lot of the seven-year plan is made out of the same stuff dreams are.

The Russian worker doesn't know this, for he doesn't know and has virtually no way of finding out how the Western World lives. However, he is better off today than he was 10 or 15 years ago — which isn't saying very much by other than Russian standards.

Russia has done a remarkable job in many material things, sputniks and aviation to name two — and even more so in the ethereal field of propaganda. But overall there is no comparison, for example, to what the West Germans have and are doing. Russia is still a very primitive country, about where the U.S. was 50 years ago.

The emphasis of the seven-year plan is on consumer goods, but whether the goals can be achieved will depend on the break between this kind of output and that for military. Also on the available manpower and how much worker productivity improves.

Here, in brief, is the seven-year program compared with the U.S. current output:

STEEL — to raise production by 1965 from 1958's 55 million tons to 86 to 91 million tons. Present U.S. steel capacity is 147.6 million tons.

ROLLED STEEL — from 42 million tons to 65 to 70 million tons. The U.S. produced 65 million tons last year, but has a much higher capacity.

GAS — from 30 billion cubic meters to 150 billion. The U.S. currently has 305 billion cubic meter production. The American figures do not include gas returned to wells for storage.

OIL — from 113 million tons to 230 to 240 million tons. U.S. is currently producing 335½ million metric tons.

ELECTRICITY — from 233 billion kilowatt hours to 500 to 520 billion kwh. The U.S. is now generating 724 billion kwh.

COAL — from 500 million tons to 596 to 609 million tons. U.S. is mining 412 million metric tons, but coal is no longer the major source of energy.

TRUCKS — from 372,000 to 650,000, and buses from 10,000 to 40,000. U.S. does not break down the two, but production last year of trucks and buses was 650,711.

AUTOS — from 114,000 cars to 170,000. U.S. in 1958 — a poor year — turned out 4,224,005 autos and will make around 6 million this year. It has the capacity for 8 million.

SHOES — from 355 million pairs to 515 million. U.S. is now turning out 505 million pairs, plus another 78 million slippers — virtually unknown in Russia.

HOSIERY — from 882 million pairs to 1,250 million. U.S. currently turns out 1,754 million pairs of a far superior quality.

COTTON FABRIC — from 6,380 million yards to 8,800 million yards. U.S. mills are producing 9 billion yards with a much greater capacity.

MEATS — from 2.8 million metric tons to 6.1 million tons. U.S. meat output is now 10 million tons.

BUTTER — from 627,000 metric tons to 1,006,000. U.S. butter production is 630,056 metric tons. This is one commodity where Russia is apparently matching the U.S. and the butter is of good quality.

Billy Casper's 139 Leads National Open Golf Tourney

Hogan, Player, Palmer Trail By One Stroke

Souchak And Ford Post 141s; Final Rounds Set Today

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press International

MAMARONECK, N. Y. (UPI) — Pudgy Billy Casper, a 29-year-old Californian crashed his way through the cool of evening with a two under par 34-34—68 Friday for a 139 which gave him a one stroke lead at the halfway mark in the U. S. Open golf championship.

Casper's late sprint over the rolling acres of Winged Foot Golf Club moved him just one blow in front of icy-eyed Ben Hogan, 23-year-old Gary Player of South Africa and brawny Arnold Palmer of Ligonier, Pa. Another shot back at 141 came Doug Ford and Mike Souchak, all hot on the leader's heels as Casper blazed the way into Saturday's final two rounds.

Player, hoping to become the first foreign winner since Ted Ray of England in 1920, made the first move for the lead when he shot a 33-36—69. But Hogan, in a four-way tie at 69 after the first round, hung on despite a bogeyed 17h hole for a 36-35—71 and a matching 140. Next it was Palmer, with a 34-35—69 which tied their total.

Casper's Putting Tops

Then they stood helplessly in the clubhouse as Casper, the baby faced behemoth from Apple Valley snatched the lead away from them with as fine a round as this tournament has seen.

Casper romped out with a 15 foot birdie putt on the second hole and went two under par on the fifth with a five-footer. He trapped his tee shot on the seventh to bogey and make the turn in a one under par 34. Then the large-waisted young gentleman who frowns on diets and handles a putter with a pickpocket's touch matched the par card all the way home except on the 13th where he curled home a 45-foot uphill putt for a birdie which finished him in 34 and 68.

That gave him the top spot at 139—one under par for the front 36 holes—and one shot ahead of Hogan, Player and Palmer.

Two shots behind at 141 came Doug Ford with a 35-34—69 and Mike Souchak with 37-33—70. Two others were in top contention at 142, these being Ernie Vossler of Midland, Tex., and Dow Finsterwald, the PGA champion. Finsterwald, tied with Hogan, Gene Littler and unknown Dick Knight at 69 after the first round, ballooned to a 36-37—73.

Littler Drops Behind

Littler dropped to a 74 which pushed him back to 143 along with Jay Hebert and home pro Claude Harmon. Then the field stretched away, off into the distance. Knight, one of the first round leaders, took a 75 which dropped him back to 144 along with such as Don January, Ewing Pomeroy of Atlanta, Joe Campbell and Ted Kroll.

Sam Snead, still shooting for his first open title, continued to have minor troubles but sprayed his way to a 38-34—72 which notched him at 145 with Bob Rosburg and Lionel Hebert. Another shot back at 146 came Vic Ghezzi. Chick Harbert, who also had a 33-35—68 today, and Canada's Al Balding.

Ken Venturi qualified safely for the final rounds tomorrow—in which only the low 50 and ties are eligible—by whacking out a 69 for 147. Defending champion Tommy Bolt had a 73 which put him at 148 with Jack Fleck, another former winner. Leading money winner Art Wall had a 74 for 149 and at 150 were amateur king Charley Coe, former champion Julius Boros and singer Don Cherry.

McCormick Shuts Out Phils, 3-0

Mike Tosses Five Inning No-Hitter

By RUSS GREEN
United Press International

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Young Mike McCormick hurled five innings of no-hit ball, pitching the San Francisco Giants to a 3-0 victory over Philadelphia Friday night with rain halting the game after Richie Ashburn smashed a sharp single to right in the sixth inning.

The downpour, coming with the Giants leading, three Phillies on base and none out, reverted the score to the fifth inning. It wiped out Ashbern's single and made McCormick the winner for as short a legal game as is possible.

Rain Erases Run

It also erased the Giants' fourth run, in the sixth, making the final score, 3-0.

Although McCormick did not yield an official hit, his game does not go into the record book as an official no-hitter. Numerous games short of nine innings have been pitched without a pitcher yielding a hit.

The Phillies loaded the bases off McCormick on successive walks to Valmy Thomas and pinch-hitter Jim Bolger and Ashburn's single to right. Gene Freese had a 1-0 count when the floods came.

The umpires waited 40 minutes and then called it a night.

Mike Wins Fourth

McCormick won his fourth of the season. The loser was Jack Meyer, who started his first contest since last Aug. 13, when scheduled starter Ruben Gomez showed up with a badly swollen hand injured in a pepper game before Thursday night's game.

Meyer, who had a 4-2 record in relief, gave up the Giants' first run when Jim Davenport opened with a triple and scored on Willie Kirkland's smash through Ed Bouchee. The Giants scored again in the fifth when Ed Bressoud doubled and Hobie Landrith hit Meyer's first pitch high upon the light standards.

McCormick retired the first 10 batters, although it took a beautiful catch by Jackie Brandt to rob Harry Anderson in the second inning. Freese walked with one out in the fourth for the only Phil to reach until the sixth.

Demeter Almost Loses Bat, Gets It Back In Swap

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Don Demeter, Los Angeles outfielder, was called out on strikes in the sixth inning of Friday night's game with the Pittsburgh Pirates and in disgust threw his bat to the ground.

The bat bounced high into the air and into a box seat near the Dodger dugout. Occupants of the box refused to return the bat despite the urging of the Dodger bat boy and park police.

Demeter went to the box between innings and apologized to the occupants. He then offered to give them a second bat in place of the one he had thrown in disgust.

The fans in the box agreed to the swap and everyone was happy.

Don Mossi Wins Fourth In Row Over Yanks, 3-1

Yields Six Hits, Tigers Score All Runs Off Bronstad

NEW YORK (UPI) — Veteran left-hander Don Mossi continued his newly-discovered mastery over the New York Yankees, pitching Detroit to a 3-1, six-hit victory for his fourth straight win over the world champions Friday night.

Mossi, who went into the season with a 4-6 lifetime record against New York, is now 8-6 and has pitched complete games in each of his four starts against the Yankees.

The Tigers scored all their runs early off rookie Jim Bronstad, who made his first major league start.

Consecutive singles by Larry Osborne, Lew Berberet and Rocky Bridges leading off the second inning plus a double play by Frank Bolling gave Detroit two runs. Eddie Yost led off the third inning with a walk, stole second and scored on Charlie Maxwell's double.

The Yankees scored their run in the second inning when Hector Lopez and Yogi Berra opened with walks and Bill Skowron scored Lopez with a single.

Yanks Muff Chances

The Yankees had two other excellent scoring chances before their attack bogged down. Jim Pisoni, just purchased from Richmond, opened the sixth with a single and one out later Mickey Mantle sent him to second with another hit. Lopez forced Mantle at second and Pisoni was doubled after rounding third. Berra and Skowron singled to open the seventh but the next three men went out in order to leave the runners stranded.

Chiti's Homer Wins For A's At Boston, 3-2

BOSTON (UPI)—Weak - hitting Harry Chiti slammed a three-run homer in the fourth inning, his first of the year, to provide Rip Coleman and the Kansas City Athletics with a 3-2 win over the Boston Red Sox Friday night.

The Red Sox drove Coleman to the showers with two runs in the eighth but reliever Tom Sturdivant came on to preserve the victory.

Chiti's homer came off Boston starter and loser Frank Sullivan. Chiti, who brought a .233 batting mark into the game, rode a one-strike pitch into the left field net after Ray Boone and Bob Cerv walked.

Coleman had allowed only four singles going into the Boston eighth. But Bobby Avila led off with a single off Hal Smith's leg. Ted Williams singled to center and Dick Gernert walked to fill the bases.

Out went Coleman in favor of Tom Gorman who walked Jackie Jensen on four pitches to force in a run.

In came right - hander Sturdivant. Frank Malzone fanned and Boston's second run came home on Gary Geiger's grounder to Boone. Pinch-hitter Herb Plews forced Jensen at third after Vic Wertz was passed intentionally to refill the bases.

Sturdivant put the Red Sox down in order in the ninth.

It was Coleman's second win against four losses. Sullivan's record now is 3-5.

Grand Stevie Cops Feature At Shenandoah

CHARLES TOWN, W. Va. (AP) — Robert N. Boerner's Grand Stevie, always meeting tougher horses at Shenandoah Downs found a field to his liking tonight and won the featured American Flag purse.

Grand Stevie, a favorite with the crowd of 4,907, led all the way to turn back the field of seven other sprinters in the six-furlong dash. The winner's time was 1:13 4-5 over a fast-drying track.

Grand Stevie paid $5.80, $4.00 and $2.80. Papa Tony was second at $5.40 and $3.60, and Indian Time survived a photo for show, paying $4.20.

Shenandoah's million-watt lighting system got a jolt prior to post time when a severe electrical storm knocked out power at the track. Emergency equipment soon had the lights on, however, and when the first race went off everything was in working order.

The mutuel handle was $199,166.

Killebrew's 20th Homer Brings Rain In First Inning

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Harmon Killebrew's 20th home run was wasted Friday night when rain washed out the Washington-Cleveland game with the Senators still at bat in the first inning.

Russ Kemmerer had retired the side in the top of the first, then Killebrew belted a homer off Herb Score with two out in the home half. The storm broke just as Roy Sievers was coming to bat. The game was called after a delay of one hour.

Larker's Pinch Single Defeats Pittsburgh, 9-6

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Norm Larker's bases-loaded pinch single scored two runs in the ninth inning Friday night to help the Los Angeles Dodgers to a 9-6 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates as Dodger Manager Walt Alston juggled his bench strength and it paid off.

Larker batted for winning pitcher Danny McDevitt with only one out and he promptly drilled one of ace reliever Elroy Face's deliveries through the drawn-up infield to score Maury Wills and Wally Moon. Had the Pirate infield been at natural depth, the ball possibly could have been turned into a side-retiring double play.

For insurance, Junior Gillium, who had four hits previously, sent a sacrifice fly to left to score Duke Snider with the final Dodgers run.

The game saw Alston use 22 players in a successful effort to win his second game of the season over Pittsburgh. The Pirates injected 15 men into their lineup, making a total of 37 men who saw action during the marathon 3:35 contest. The time consumed was eight minutes shy of a National League record for a nine-inning game.

Ortiz Given TKO Win Over Lane In 2nd

Kenney's Brow Is Gashed By Right, Bout Is Stopped

NEW YORK (UPI) — Puerto-Rican born Carlos Ortiz of New York won the revived junior welterweight championship Friday night with a terrific right that gashed Kenny Lane's right brow so badly Ortiz was given a technical knockout victory at the end of the second round.

The right smashed into the inside corner of Lane's right brow just two seconds before the action was scheduled to end in the second round of their scheduled 12-rounder at Madison Square Garden.

Blood poured down over Lane's face as he sat on his stool. Dr. Harry Kleiman climbed into the ring, examined the cut and advised referee Harry Kessler to forbid southpaw Lane to come out of his corner again.

Kessler called it a technical knockout in the second round under rules of the New York State Athletic Commission, since the bell had not rung for the third session to begin.

Swarthy, dark-haired Ortiz had floored sandy-haired Lane of Muskegon, Mich., earlier in the second round with a right to the chin for a count of four. Lane landed on his haunches, but he was not badly hurt.

He rose and gave Carlos a terrific fight until the right that split the brow and caused the gusher of blood. During the furious fighting in that second round, Ortiz suffered a nick under his right eye.

It was an avenging victory for 22-year-old Ortiz, who had lost a split decision to Lane at Miami Beach on Dec. 31, in a 10-rounder where in no title was involved.

Billy Casper's 139 Leads National Open Golf Tourney

Hogan, Player, Palmer Trail By One Stroke

Souchak And Ford Post 141s; Final Rounds Set Today

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press International

MAMARONECK, N. Y. (UPI) — Pudgy Billy Casper, a 29-year-old Californian crashed his way through the cool of evening with a two under par 34-34—68 Friday for a 139 which gave him a one stroke lead at the halfway mark in the U. S. Open golf championship.

Casper's late sprint over the rolling acres of Winged Foot Golf Club moved him just one blow in front of icy-eyed Ben Hogan, 23-year-old Gary Player of South Africa and brawny Arnold Palmer of Ligonier, Pa. Another shot back at 141 came Doug Ford and Mike Souchak, all hot on the leader's heels as Casper blazed the way into Saturday's final two rounds.

Player, hoping to become the first foreign winner since Ted Ray of England in 1920, made the first move for the lead when he shot a 33-36—69. But Hogan, in a four-way tie at 69 after the first round, hung on despite a bogeyed 17h hole for a 36-35—71 and a matching 140. Next it was Palmer, with a 34-35—69 which tied their total.

Casper's Putting Tops

Then they stood helplessly in the clubhouse as Casper, the baby faced behemoth from Apple Valley snatched the lead away from them with as fine a round as this tournament has seen.

Casper romped out with a 15 foot birdie putt on the second hole and went two under par on the fifth with a five-footer. He trapped his tee shot on the seventh to bogey and make the turn in a one under par 34. Then the large-waisted young gentleman who frowns on diets and handles a putter with a pickpocket's touch matched the par card all the way home except on the 13th where he curled home a 45-foot uphill putt for a birdie which finished him in 34 and 68.

That gave him the top spot at 139—one under par for the front 36 holes—and one shot ahead of Hogan, Player and Palmer.

Two shots behind at 141 came Doug Ford with a 35-34—69 and Mike Souchak with 37-33—70. Two others were in top contention at 142, these being Ernie Vossler of Midland, Tex., and Dow Finsterwald, the PGA champion. Finsterwald, tied with Hogan, Gene Littler and unknown Dick Knight at 69 after the first round, ballooned to a 36-37—73.

Littler Drops Behind

Littler dropped to a 74 which pushed him back to 143 along with Jay Hebert and home pro Claude Harmon. Then the field stretched away, off into the distance. Knight, one of the first round leaders, took a 75 which dropped him back to 144 along with such as Don January, Ewing Pomeroy of Atlanta, Joe Campbell and Ted Kroll.

Sam Snead, still shooting for his first open title, continued to have minor troubles but sprayed his way to a 38-34—72 which notched him at 145 with Bob Rosburg and Lionel Hebert. Another shot back at 146 came Vic Ghezzi. Chick Harbert, who also had a 33-35—68 today, and Canada's Al Balding.

Ken Venturi qualified safely for the final rounds tomorrow—in which only the low 50 and ties are eligible—by whacking out a 69 for 147. Defending champion Tommy Bolt had a 73 which put him at 148 with Jack Fleck, another former winner. Leading money winner Art Wall had a 74 for 149 and at 150 were amateur king Charley Coe, former champion Julius Boros and singer Don Cherry.

McCormick Shuts Out Phils, 3-0

Mike Tosses Five Inning No-Hitter

By RUSS GREEN
United Press International

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Young Mike McCormick hurled five innings of no-hit ball, pitching the San Francisco Giants to a 3-0 victory over Philadelphia Friday night with rain halting the game after Richie Ashburn smashed a sharp single to right in the sixth inning.

The downpour, coming with the Giants leading, three Phillies on base and none out, reverted the score to the fifth inning. It wiped out Ashburn's single and made McCormick the winner for as short a legal game as is possible.

Rain Erases Run

It also erased the Giants' fourth run, in the sixth, making the final score, 3-0.

Although McCormick did not yield an official hit, his game does not go into the record book as an official no-hitter. Numerous games short of nine innings have been pitched without a pitcher yielding a hit.

The Phillies loaded the bases off McCormick on successive walks to Valmy Thomas and pinch-hitter Jim Bolger and Ashburn's single to right. Gene Freese had a 1-0 count when the floods came.

The umpires waited 40 minutes and then called it a night.

Mike Wins Fourth

McCormick won his fourth of the season. The loser was Jack Meyer, who started his first contest since last Aug. 13, when scheduled starter Ruben Gomez showed up with a badly swollen hand injured in a pepper game before Thursday night's game.

Meyer, who had a 4-2 record in relief, gave up the Giants' first run when Jim Davenport opened with a triple and scored on Willie Kirkland's smash through Ed Bouchee. The Giants scored again in the fifth when Ed Bressoud doubled and Hobie Landrith hit Meyer's first pitch high upon the light standards.

McCormick retired the first 10 batters, although it took a beautiful catch by Jackie Brandt to rob Harry Anderson in the second inning. Freese walked with one out in the fourth for the only Phil to reach until the sixth.

Demeter Almost Loses Bat, Gets It Back In Swap

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Don Demeter, Los Angeles outfielder, was called out on strikes in the sixth inning of Friday night's game with the Pittsburgh Pirates and in disgust threw his bat to the ground.

The bat bounced high into the air and into a box seat near the Dodger dugout. Occupants of the box refused to return the bat despite the urging of the Dodger bat boy and park police.

Demeter went to the box between innings and apologized to the occupants. He then offered to give them a second bat in place of the one he had thrown in disgust.

The fans in the box agreed to the swap and everyone was happy.

Yields Six Hits, Tigers Score All Runs Off Bronstad

NEW YORK (UPI) — Veteran left-hander Don Mossi continued his newly-discovered mastery over the New York Yankees, pitching Detroit to a 3-1, six-hit victory for his fourth straight win over the world champions Friday night.

Mossi, who went into the season with a 4-6 lifetime record against New York, is now 8-6 and has pitched complete games in each of his four starts against the Yankees.

The Tigers scored all their runs early off rookie Jim Bronstad, who made his first major league start.

Consecutive singles by Larry Osborne, Lew Berberet and Rocky Bridges leading off the second inning plus a double play by Frank Bolling gave Detroit two runs. Eddie Yost led off the third inning with a walk, stole second and scored on Charlie Maxwell's double.

The Yankees scored their run in the second inning when Hector Lopez and Yogi Berra opened with walks and Bill Skowron scored Lopez with a single.

Yanks Muff Chances

The Yankees had two other excellent scoring chances before their attack bogged down. Jim Pisoni, just purchased from Richmond, opened the sixth with a single and one out later Mickey Mantle sent him to second with another hit. Lopez forced Mantle at second and Pisoni was doubled after rounding third. Berra and Skowron singled to open the seventh but the next three men went out in order to leave the runners stranded.

Chiti's Homer Wins For A's At Boston, 3-2

BOSTON (UPI)—Weak - hitting Harry Chiti slammed a three-run homer in the fourth inning, his first of the year, to provide Rip Coleman and the Kansas City Athletics with a 3-2 win over the Boston Red Sox Friday night.

The Red Sox drove Coleman to the showers with two runs in the eighth but reliever Tom Sturdivant came on to preserve the victory.

Chiti's homer came off Boston starter and loser Frank Sullivan. Chiti, who brought a .233 batting mark into the game, rode a one-strike pitch into the left field net after Ray Boone and Bob Cerv walked.

Coleman had allowed only four singles going into the Boston eighth. But Bobby Avila led off with a single off Hal Smith's leg. Ted Williams singled to center and Dick Gernert walked to fill the bases.

Out went Coleman in favor of Tom Gorman who walked Jackie Jensen on four pitches to force in a run.

In came right - hander Sturdivant. Frank Malzone fanned and Boston's second run came home on Gary Geiger's grounder to Boone. Pinch-hitter Herb Plews forced Jensen at third after Vic Wertz was passed intentionally to refill the bases.

Sturdivant put the Red Sox down in order in the ninth.

It was Coleman's second win against four losses. Sullivan's record now is 3-5.

Frostburg's Little Moes kept their record unblemished in the Bi-State Pony Baseball League when they reeled off their sixth consecutive victory at the expense of Mt. Savage yesterday on the latter's field. The score was 2-1.

Bill Diehl held Mt. Savage to five hits, struck out eleven and notched his third straight win of the season for the unbeaten league leaders. Joe Nolan, of Mt. Savage, yielded only six hits and whiffed nine.

Catania and Jim Diehl, of Frostburg, and Aldridge and Nolan of Mt. Savage garnered two hits each. Aldridge and Nolan smacked two-baggers as did Eisel of the Little Moes.

Ellerslie remained 1½ games on the heels of the leaders by beating LaVale to the tune of 8-4.

J. Cook pounded a homer and double and B. Duckworth obtained two singles to head Ellerslie's 10 hit assault. Beynon and Keller shared four of LaVale's seven safeties.

Ellerslie broke a 4-4 tie with two runs in the sixth and added to more tallies in the seventh.

Cresaptown squeezed over a run in the bottom of the eighth to edge Lonaconing in an extra inning battle at Cresaptown by the score of 9-8.

Francis Ferrone singled, advanced to third on an error and scored the winning run on Billy Lovett's infield out.

Lovett was the "big gun" for Manager Dale Broadwater's team with a homer and two singles to his credit. Miller and Winner had two hits each for 'Coney as did Mikesell of the winners. Ferrone got credit for the win and Kenny McCormick was the loser. The scores:

Grand Stevie Cops Feature At Shenandoah

CHARLES TOWN, W. Va. (AP) — Robert N. Boerner's Grand Stevie, always meeting tougher horses at Shenandoah Downs found a field to his liking tonight and won the featured American Flag purse.

Grand Stevie, a favorite with the crowd of 4,907, led all the way to turn back the field of seven other sprinters in the six-furlong dash. The winner's time was 1:13 4-5 over a fast-drying track.

Grand Stevie paid $5.80, $4.00 and $2.80. Papa Tony was second at $5.40 and $3.60, and Indian Time survived a photo for show, paying $4.20.

Shenandoah's million-watt lighting system got a jolt prior to post time when a severe electrical storm knocked out power at the track. Emergency equipment soon had the lights on, however, and when the first race went off everything was in working order.

The mutuel handle was $199,166.

Killebrew's 20th Homer Brings Rain In First Inning

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Harmon Killebrew's 20th home run was wasted Friday night when rain washed out the Washington-Cleveland game with the Senators still at bat in the first inning.

Russ Kemmerer had retired the side in the top of the first, then Killebrew belted a homer off Herb Score with two out in the home half. The storm broke just as Roy Sievers was coming to bat. The game was called after a delay of one hour.

Larker's Pinch Single Defeats Pittsburgh, 9-6

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Norm Larker's bases-loaded pinch single scored two runs in the ninth inning Friday night to help the Los Angeles Dodgers to a 9-6 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates as Dodger Manager Walt Alston juggled his bench strength and it paid off.

Larker batted for winning pitcher Danny McDevitt with only one out and he promptly drilled one of ace reliever Elroy Face's deliveries through the drawn-up infield to score Maury Wills and Wally Moon. Had the Pirate infield been at natural depth, the ball possibly could have been turned into a side-retiring double play.

For insurance, Junior Gillium, who had four hits previously, sent a sacrifice fly to left to score Duke Snider with the final Dodgers run.

The game saw Alston use 22 players in a successful effort to win his second game of the season over Pittsburgh. The Pirates injected 15 men into their lineup, making a total of 37 men who saw action during the marathon 3:35 contest. The time consumed was eight minutes shy of a National League record for a nine-inning game.

Ortiz Given TKO Win Over Lane In 2nd

Kenney's Brow Is Gashed By Right, Bout Is Stopped

NEW YORK (UPI) — Puerto-Rican born Carlos Ortiz of New York won the revived junior welterweight championship Friday night with a terrific right that gashed Kenny Lane's right brow so badly Ortiz was given a technical knockout victory at the end of the second round.

The right smashed into the inside corner of Lane's right brow just two seconds before the action was scheduled to end in the second round of their scheduled 12-rounder at Madison Square Garden.

Blood poured down over Lane's face as he sat on his stool. Dr. Harry Kleiman climbed into the ring, examined the cut and advised referee Harry Kessler to forbid southpaw Lane to come out of his corner again.

Kessler called it a technical knockout in the second round under rules of the New York State Athletic Commission, since the bell had not rung for the third session to begin.

Swarthy, dark-haired Ortiz had floored sandy-haired Lane of Muskegon, Mich., earlier in the second round with a right to the chin for a count of four. Lane landed on his haunches, but he was not badly hurt.

He rose and gave Carlos a terrific fight until the right that split the brow and caused the gusher of blood. During the furious fighting in that second round, Ortiz suffered a nick under his right eye.

It was an avenging victory for 22-year-old Ortiz, who had lost a split decision to Lane at Miami Beach on Dec. 31, in a 10-rounder where in no title was involved.

Eleven Slated To Go Postward In Rich Belmont Stakes

Three Horses Hold Interest Of Most Fans

Sword Dancer, Black Hills, Royal Orbit Top Endurance Field

By RAY AYRES
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI)—The 91st running of the $125,000 added Belmont Stakes drew a surprisingly large field of 11 Friday for its richest renewal Saturday but interest centered on three horses—Sword Dancer, Royal Orbit and Black Hills.

If all of them start, the third of the Triple Crown classics will have its largest field since 1954 when High Gun won in a field of 13.

$94,825 For Winner

And if the 11 go to the post at 4:48 p.m. e.d.t. the mile and one-half endurance test will be worth a total of $147,500 with a net purse of $94,825 going to the winner.

Sword Dancer, Royal Orbit, Black Hills, Dunce, Bagdad, North Pole 2nd, Scotland, The Irishman, Joe's Master and Lake Erie shoot for that rich purse. But Manassa Mauler, made a supplementary nomination at a cost of $5,000, can win "only" $89,875.

The race will be televised nationally by CBS between 4:30 and 5 p.m. e.d.t.

Sword Dancer Favorite

Sword Dancer, a small but dead-game colt owned by the Brookmeade Stable, looms as favorite to grab the rich purse. After finishing second in three $100,000 races — to Easy Spur in the Florida Derby, to Tomy Lee in the Kentucky Derby, and to Royal Orbit in the Preakness Stakes, Sword Dancer finally scored in one.

In that mile race, Sword Dancer carried 114 pounds. But that was one more than is normal for a three-year-old running against older horses. He must, as all the other Belmont Stakes starters, shoulder 126 pounds in a race in which "the running only begins when it is all over in the Kentucky Derby and Preakness."

Willie Shoemaker rides Sword Dancer, tabbed a 6-5 favorite in the overnight line, in hopes of winning his second Belmont triumph. Shoemaker won with Gallant Man two years ago when Gallant Man set an American record of 2:26 3-5 for the mile and one-half. Royal Orbit, the pride and joy of Mrs. Halina Braunstein, shapes up as second choice at 2-1. After finishing fourth in the Kentucky Derby, this young giant romped to an easy four-length victory in the Preakness but only a week ago lost prestige with a third place finish in the Peter Pan Handicap. Royal Orbit carried 127 pounds in that mile and one-eighth prep and thus drops one pound while all his rivals pick up weight from recent races.

Arcaro On Black Hills

Willie Harmatz rides Royal Orbit while Eddie Arcaro rides Black Hills, the third choice at 4-1.

Arcaro already has won the Belmont Stakes six times. He can break a tie with Jim McLaughlin for the all-time riding record if he can win with Black Hills, who earned a starting berth in the classic by winning the Peter Pan.

It was the first stakes victory for Black Hills, just as the triumph in the Peter Pan was the first for High Gun, who also sported the brown and white silks of the King Ranch. Black Hills carries 13 pounds more than he did a week ago.

Howard B. Keck's Bagdad, second in the Peter Pan, looms as best of the others. Bobby Ussery rides at 12-1. Clairborne Farm's Dunce, a disappointment in the Triple Crown races thus far, was 15-1 with Manny Ycaza riding.

The others all were outsiders.

A warm, sunny day was forecast and a crowd of 35,000 expected.

A GIFT FOR HARVEY HADDIX—National League President Warren Giles is shown with silver tray and 12 silver goblets he presented to Pittsburgh pitcher Harvey Haddix in Pittsburgh last night in recognition of 12 perfect innings against Milwaukee May 26. The plate is inscribed "To Harvey Haddix in recognition of his outstanding performance—unprecedented in baseball history—pitching 12 consecutive perfect innings game of May 26, 1959." The goblets are numbered inning by inning with the play by play account of how the Braves were retired. (AP Photofax)

Grissom Requests To Be Placed On Retirement List

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Veteran relief pitcher Marv Grissom Friday made a decision he said was promoted by a back ailment and base hits. He requested to be placed on the voluntarily retired list.

The big St. Louis Cardinals' right-hander, who is 42, probably won't pitch again.

"I can't say for sure if this is the end of the line for me," said the ruddy-faced Californian, "but I suppose it will be. My only regret is quitting in the middle of a season."

Grissom helped pitch the then New York Giants to the 1954 world championship.

Frostburg Caseys Blank Republicans

Scoring their runs in the first and final innings, the Knights of Columbus defeated the Republican Club in a Frostburg Little League game yesterday by the score of 2-0.

The win gave the Caseys a 2-2 record while the Republicans suffered their second loss against a single victory.

"Shorty" Christner limited the losers to four hits and struck out seven. Danny Broadwater went the route for the Republicans and fanned 10.

Jerry Groves collected two of the Knights' six hits and Kenny Fike slammed a home run in the sixth. Danny Broadwater and Ed Dudley rapped two-baggers for the G.O.P.

A doubleheader will be staged Tuesday with the Lions and Rotary meeting at 5 p.m., and the Republican Club and the Elks at 6:15. Yesterday's score:

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Kentucky Derby winner Tomy Lee and C. V. Whitney's filly star, Silver Spoon, headed a cast of eight 3-year-olds entered in the $50,000 - added Cinema Handicap at Hollywood Park Saturday.

The mile and one-eighth feature marks the first start for Tomy Lee, Fred Turner Jr.'s English-bred colt, and the filly queen since the Kentucky classic May 2.

Silver Spoon ran a commendable fifth at Churchill Downs.

Arrayed against Tomy Lee and Silver Spoon will be N. S. McCarthy's Ole Fols, Prince Cohen, Traymore II, Friar Roach, Civic Pride and King O Turf.

Tomy Lee carries top weight of 126 pounds, while the filly, a daughter of the great Citation, goes postward with 120 pounds.

Round Table Races Today

Entered In $57,800 Citation Handicap

CHICAGO (UPI)—Round Table, Kerr Stables' top money winner, runs in Balmoral's $57,800 Citation Handicap Saturday in a try to win a mile race at Washington Park for the first time in his rich career.

Round Table, who has a record of $1,363,181 in career winnings, heads a field of 13. He is a heavy choice and topweighted, although it will be his first race since February, when he was injured in California.

Carrying 130 pounds, Round Table's rider will be Steve Brooks, Balmoral's leading jockey. The favorite will give up between 19 and 26 pounds to his challengers.

Chief among these are William Hal Bishop's three-horse entry, Bernburgoo, Hare Raising and Petes Folly. Bernburgoo upset Round Table last summer in the Warren Wright Memorial at Arlington. Round Table never has won a mile race at Arlington or Washington parks, the two largest in the Chicago area.

"Sleepy" Glenn Is Sentenced To Jail

CHARLES TOWN, W.Va. (UPI) — One-time West Virginia University football coach Marshall Glenn was found guilty of drunken driving here Thursday and sentenced to six months in the Jefferson County jail.

Magistrate Merle Alger said it was the second such offense for Glenn, who coached Mountaineer football teams in 1937-35, and the jail sentence was mandatory.

The latest occurrence was last May 30. The magistrate said Glenn's previous conviction followed his arrest on Dec. 25, 1954.

Alger said Glenn's driver's license was revoked for 10 years in addition to the jail sentence.

Cornell Player Cops Net Title

HAMILTON, N.Y. (UPI)—Don Rubell of Cornell came back from a shaky start to defeat Bill McClung of Dartmouth for the singles championship in the Eastern Intercollegiate Tennis tournament Friday 9-7, 6-2, 6-0.

Both men were uneasy at the outset, running off 13 straight service breaks before Rubell gained control.

The victory assured Cornell of the team title, its fifth since 1948, and gave the Big Red permanent possession of the Tod Backe Challenge Bowl.

McClung and Dick Hoehn garnered some measure of revenge by beating Rubell and Kay Champion for the doubles title, 6-1, 1-6, 6-1, 5-7, 6-4.

Dartmouth was runner-up 31 points to 36 for Cornell.

Elks Blank Silkmen, 7-0

Underdonk Scores 7th Win Of Season

Bill Underdonk pitched a three-hitter and the opposition failed to advance a runner past second base as the B.P.O. Elks defeated the Celanese A.A. yesterday at Celanese Field by the score of 7-0 and moved within a half game of the first place V.F.W. team in the Rocking Chair Softball League.

The win gave the Elks a 7-3 record while the Vets head the race with eight wins and three losses.

Underdonk yielded singles in the first and fifth innings and a double in the 5th in registering his 7th triumph of the campaign. He has lost two games.

The Elks won the game in the first inning by scoring twice on Lou Baker's walk, Johnny Cox's two-bagger and Walter "Pooch" Orndorff's single which sent home the two tallies. Connolly also batted in two runs.

Cox, Orndorff, Underdonk, Connolly and Jack Bopp had two hits each for the Elks.

Elks	200 041 0—7 13 1
Celanese	000 000 0— 0 3 0

Underdonk and Kreitzburg, N. Shuck and Harden.

Five Women Tied In American Open

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI) — Rallies on the last nine holes carried five lady golfers, including defending champion Patty Berg, to a tie in the first round of the American Open here Friday.

Sharing first place honors with Miss Berg with par 76s at the end of 18 holes were Mary Lena Faulk, Louise Suggs, Gloria Fecht and Beverly Hanson.

To tie, the quintet needed sub par performances on the back nine to overcome mediocre showings while the wind blew up to 40 miles per hour during the first nine holes.

One stroke behind, were Marlene Bauer Hagge, Betty Jameson and Bonnie Randolph. Twenty-five professionals and 15 amateurs are entered in the 72-hole $7,500 tourney at the Brookview Country Club.

Chicago Hands Burdette 5th Loss Of Year

Cubs Get 15 Blows, Top Milwaukee, 9-7

By GENE BLUDEAU
United Press International

CHICAGO (UPI)—Ernie Banks and Lee Walls each belted a homer and drove in three runs Friday to pace a 15-hit assault and a 9-7 Chicago Cubs victory over the Milwaukee Braves.

Right hander Johnny Buzhardt was the winner, although he failed to survive a five-run Milwaukee outburst in the seventh which included a three-run homer by Johnny Logan.

Walls and Banks belted back-to-back bases-empty homers in a three-run first inning off starter and loser Lew Burdette. Banks singled to drive in one of three runs in the second inning and Walls drove in a run while grounding out in the same frame.

Banks singled with his third run-scoring hit in the fourth inning to boost his league-leading RBI total to 61. Walls tripled behind Al Dark's single for one of two Cubs runs in the sixth.

Five homers were clouted in the contest. Eddie Mathews belted his 21st to give the Braves a single run in the third inning and his 22nd for another single tally in the ninth.

Burdette, seeking his 10th win, retired the first two batters in the first inning. Then Walls drove the ball into the center field bleachers and Banks clouted his 16th homer of the year. Dale Long singled, moved up on a wild pitch, and scored on Bobby Thomson's double.

Burdette was rapped for a double by Buzhardt after one out in the second inning and for successive singles by Tony Taylor and Dark before he was removed with his fifth loss of the season. Dark's single scored Buzhardt, Walls grounded out to score Taylor, and Banks singled off reliever Bob Trowbridge for the inning's third run.

Singles by Buzhardt, Tony Taylor and Banks accounted for a run in the fourth inning and the Cubs picked up a pair in the sixth on a single, a forceout, Dark's single and Walls' triple.

Silver Ship Beats Cohoes At Belmont

Arcaro Rides 47th Winner Of Meeting

ELMONT, N. Y., June 12 (AP) —Woolford Farm's Silver Ship won his third straight race at Belmont Park today, scoring an easy four and a half length win in the excellent time of 1:10 for six furlongs. Eddie Arcaro, winning his 47th race of the meeting, eased the four-year-old colt through the stretch after opening up a long lead while establishing early fractions of 22 seconds for the quarter and 44 4/5 for the half. Greentree Stable's Cohoes was closest at the finish with Mrs. Wallace Gilroy's Oh Johnny third.

The $7,500 Gallant Man Purse, named for the 1957 winner of the Belmont Sakes, called for Silver Ship to carry 120 pounds in his first meeting with stakes class horses since he was claimed by Herbert Woolf, Kansas City, Kansas, merchant, for $10,000 on May 23. The big colt carried his weight with authority and easily turned back the stakes winning Cohoes, who was conceding Silver Ship four pounds. Oh Johnny, also a stakes winner, was scaled at 120 pounds in making his first start of the year.

Silver Ship was the popular choice with the crowd of 18,385, returning mutuels of $2.90, $2.30 and $2.10 across the board.

Eleven Slated To Go Postward In Rich Belmont Stakes

Three Horses Hold Interest Of Most Fans

Sword Dancer, Black Hills, Royal Orbit Top Endurance Field

By RAY AYRES
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI)—The 91st running of the $125,000 added Belmont Stakes drew a surprisingly large field of 11 Friday for its richest renewal Saturday but interest centered on three horses—Sword Dancer, Royal Orbit and Black Hills.

If all of them start, the third of the Triple Crown classics will have its largest field since 1954 when High Gun won in a field of 13.

$94,825 For Winner

And if the 11 go to the post at 4:48 p.m. e.d.t. the mile and one-half endurance test will be worth a total of $147,500 with a net purse of $94,825 going to the winner.

Sword Dancer, Royal Orbit, Black Hills, Dunce, Bagdad, North Pole 2nd, Scotland, The Irishman, Joe's Master and Lake Erie shoot for that rich purse. But Manassa Mauler, made a supplementary nomination at a cost of $5,000, can win "only" $89,875.

The race will be televised nationally by CBS between 4:30 and 5 p.m. e.d.t.

Sword Dancer Favorite

Sword Dancer, a small but dead-game colt owned by the Brookmeade Stable, looms as favorite to grab the rich purse. After finishing second in three $100,000 races — to Easy Spur in the Florida Derby, to Tomy Lee in the Kentucky Derby, and to Royal Orbit in the Preakness Stakes, Sword Dancer finally scored in one.

In that mile race, Sword Dancer carried 114 pounds. But that was one more than is normal for a three-year-old running against older horses. He must, as all the other Belmont Stakes starters, shoulder 126 pounds in a race in which "the running only begins when it is all over in the Kentucky Derby and Preakness."

Willie Shoemaker rides Sword Dancer, tabbed a 6-5 favorite in the overnight line, in hopes of winning his second Belmont triumph. Shoemaker won with Gallant Man two years ago when Gallant Man set an American record of 2:26 3-5 for the mile and one-half. Royal Orbit, the pride and joy of Mrs. Halina Braunstein, shapes up as second choice at 2-1. After finishing fourth in the Kentucky Derby, this young giant romped to an easy four-length victory in the Preakness but only a week ago lost prestige with a third place finish in the Peter Pan Handicap. Royal Orbit carried 127 pounds in that mile and one-eighth prep and thus drops one pound while all his rivals pick up weight from recent races.

Arcaro On Black Hills

Willie Harmatz rides Royal Orbit while Eddie Arcaro rides Black Hills, the third choice at 4-1.

Arcaro already has won the Belmont Stakes six times. He can break a tie with Jim McLaughlin for the all-time riding record if he can win with Black Hills, who earned a starting berth in the classic by winning the Peter Pan.

It was the first stakes victory for Black Hills, just as the triumph in the Peter Pan was the first for High Gun, who also sported the brown and white silks of the King Ranch. Black Hills carries 13 pounds more than he did a week ago.

Howard B. Keck's Bagdad, second in the Peter Pan, looms as best of the others. Bobby Ussery rides at 12-1. Clairborne Farm's Dunce, a disappointment in the Triple Crown races thus far, was 15-1 with Manny Ycaza riding.

The others all were outsiders.

A warm, sunny day was forecast and a crowd of 35,000 expected.

A GIFT FOR HARVEY HADDIX—National League President Warren Giles is shown with silver tray and 12 silver goblets he presented to Pittsburgh pitcher Harvey Haddix in Pittsburgh last night in recognition of 12 perfect innings against Milwaukee May 26. The plate is inscribed "To Harvey Haddix in recognition of his outstanding performance—unprecedented in baseball history—pitching 12 consecutive perfect innings game of May 26, 1959." The goblets are numbered inning by inning with the play by play account of how the Braves were retired. (AP Photofax)

The winning team's collection of 13 hits included a homer and single by Carol Hardman, a homer and two singles by Annabelle Leatherman, a circuit clout by Pat Metzger, three singles by Kathy Mullaney and a round-tripper with two aboard by Pat Cioni.

Ketterman featured in left field for the losers, making several nice running catches. The score:

Grissom Requests To Be Placed On Retirement List

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Veteran relief pitcher Marv Grissom Friday made a decision he said was promoted by a back ailment and base hits. He requested to be placed on the voluntarily retired list.

The big St. Louis Cardinals' right-hander, who is 42, probably won't pitch again.

"I can't say for sure if this is the end of the line for me," said the ruddy-faced Californian, "but I suppose it will be. My only regret is quitting in the middle of a season."

Grissom helped pitch the then New York Giants to the 1954 world championship.

Cornell Player Cops Net Title

HAMILTON, N.Y. (UPI)—Don Rubell of Cornell came back from a shaky start to defeat Bill McClung of Dartmouth for the singles championship in the Eastern Intercollegiate Tennis tournament Friday 9-7, 6-2, 6-0.

Both men were uneasy at the outset, running off 13 straight service breaks before Rubell gained control.

The victory assured Cornell of the team title, its fifth since 1948, and gave the Big Red permanent possession of the Tod Backe Challenge Bowl.

McClung and Dick Hochn garnered some measure of revenge by beating Rubell and Kay Champion for the doubles title, 6-1, 1-6, 6-1, 5-7, 6-4.

Dartmouth was runner-up 31 points to 36 for Cornell.

Frostburg Caseys Blank Republicans

Scoring their runs in the first and final innings, the Knights of Columbus defeated the Republican Club in a Frostburg Little League game yesterday by the score of 2-0.

The win gave the Caseys a 2-2 record while the Republicans suffered their second loss against a single victory.

"Shorty" Christner limited the losers to four hits and struck out seven. Danny Broadwater went the route for the Republicans and fanned 10.

Jerry Groves collected two of the Knights' six hits and Kenny Fike slammed a home run in the sixth. Danny Broadwater and Ed Dudley rapped two-baggers for the G.O.P.

A doubleheader will be staged Tuesday with the Lions and Rotary meeting at 5 p.m., and the Republican Club and the Elks at 6:15. Yesterday's score:

Republicans	000 000—0 4 2

Silver Spoon And Tomy Lee Vie On Coast

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Kentucky Derby winner Tomy Lee and C. V. Whitney's filly star, Silver Spoon, headed a cast of eight 3-year-olds entered in the $50,000-added Cinema Handicap at Hollywood Park Saturday.

The mile and one-eighth feature marks the first start for Tomy Lee, Fred Turner Jr.'s English-bred colt, and the filly queen since the Kentucky classic May 2.

Silver Spoon ran a commendable fifth at Churchill Downs.

Arrayed against Tomy Lee and Silver Spoon will be N. S. McCarthy's Ole Fols, Prince Cohen, Traymore II, Friar Roach, Civic Pride and King O Turf.

Tomy Lee carries top weight of 126 pounds, while the filly, a daughter of the great Citation, goes postward with 120 pounds.

Round Table Races Today

Entered In $57,800 Citation Handicap

CHICAGO (UPI)—Round Table, Kerr Stables' top money winner, runs in Balmoral's $57,800 Citation Handicap Saturday in a try to win a mile race at Washington Park for the first time in his rich career.

Round Table, who has a record of $1,363,181 in career winnings, heads a field of 13. He is a heavy choice and topweighted, although it will be his first race since February, when he was injured in California.

Carrying 130 pounds, Round Table's rider will be Steve Brooks, Balmoral's leading jockey. The favorite will give up between 19 and 26 pounds to his challengers.

Chief among these are William Hal Bishop's three-horse entry, Bernburgoo, Hare Raising and Petes Folly. Bernburgoo upset Round Table last summer in the Warren Wright Memorial at Arlington. Round Table never has won a mile race at Arlington or Washington parks, the two largest in the Chicago area.

"Sleepy" Glenn Is Sentenced To Jail

CHARLES TOWN, W.Va. (UPI) — One-time West Virginia University football coach Marshall Glenn was found guilty of drunken driving here Thursday and sentenced to six months in the Jefferson County jail.

Magistrate Merle Alger said it was the second such offense for Glenn, who coached Mountaineer football teams in 1937-38, and the jail sentence was mandatory.

The latest occurrence was last May 30. The magistrate said Glenn's previous conviction followed his arrest on Dec. 25, 1954.

Alger said Glenn's driver's license was revoked for 10 years in addition to the jail sentence.

Elks Blank Silkmen, 7-0

Underdonk Scores 7th Win Of Season

Bill Underdonk pitched a three-hitter and the opposition failed to advance a runner past second base as the B.P.O. Elks defeated the Celanese A.A. yesterday at Celanese Field by the score of 7-0 and moved within a half game of the first place V.F.W. team in the Rocking Chair Softball League.

The win gave the Elks a 7-3 record while the Vets head the race with eight wins and three losses.

Underdonk yielded singles in the first and fifth innings and a double in the 5th in registering his 7th triumph of the campaign. He has lost two games.

The Elks won the game in the first inning by scoring twice on Lou Baker's walk, Johnny Cox's two-bagger and Walter "Pooch" Orndorff's single which sent home the two tallies. Connolly also batted in two runs.

Cox, Orndorff, Underdonk, Connolly and Jack Bopp had two hits each for the Elks.

The Elks had 14 of their 21 putouts at first base and Underdonk had the opposition hitting with regularity to the infielders. The score:

Elks	200 041 0—7 13 1
Celanese	000 000 0— 0 3 0

Underdonk and Kreitzburg, N. Shuck and Harden.

Five Women Tied In American Open

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI) — Rallies on the last nine holes carried five lady golfers, including defending champion Patty Berg, to a tie in the first round of the American Open here Friday.

Sharing first place honors with Miss Berg with par 76s at the end of 18 holes were Mary Lena Faulk, Louise Suggs, Gloria Fecht and Beverly Hanson.

To tie, the quintet needed sub par performances on the back nine to overcome mediocre showings while the wind blew up to 40 miles per hour during the first nine holes.

One stroke behind, were Marlene Bauer Hagge, Betty Jameson and Bonnie Randolph. Twenty-five professionals and 15 amateurs are entered in the 72-hole $7,500 tourney at the Brookview Country Club.

Chicago Hands Burdette 5th Loss Of Year

Cubs Get 15 Blows, Top Milwaukee, 9-7

By GENE BLUDEAU
United Press International

CHICAGO (UPI)—Ernie Banks and Lee Walls each belted a homer and drove in three runs Friday to pace a 15-hit assault and a 9-7 Chicago Cubs victory over the Milwaukee Braves.

Right hander Johnny Buzhardt was the winner, although he failed to survive a five-run Milwaukee outburst in the seventh which included a three-run homer by Johnny Logan.

Walls and Banks belted back-to-back bases-empty homers in a three-run first inning off starter and loser Lew Burdette. Banks singled to drive in one of three runs in the second inning and Walls drove in a run while grounding out in the same frame.

Banks singled with his third run-scoring hit in the fourth inning to boost his league-leading RBI total to 61. Walls tripled behind Al Dark's single for one of two Cubs runs in the sixth.

Five homers were clouted in the contest. Eddie Mathews belted his 21st to give the Braves a single run in the third inning and his 22nd for another single tally in the ninth.

Burdette, seeking his 10th win, retired the first two batters in the first inning. Then Walls drove the ball into the center field bleachers and Banks clouted his 16th homer of the year. Dale Long singled, moved up on a wild pitch, and scored on Bobby Thomson's double.

Burdette was rapped for a double by Buzhardt after one out in the second inning and for successive singles by Tony Taylor and Dark before he was removed with his fifth loss of the season. Dark's single scored Buzhardt, Walls grounded out to score Taylor, and Banks singled off reliever Bob Trowbridge for the inning's third run.

Singles by Buzhardt, Tony Taylor and Banks accounted for a run in the fourth inning and the Cubs picked up a pair in the sixth on a single, a forceout, Dark's single and Walls' triple.

Trucker Killed On Turnpike

A New Jersey truck driver was killed early yesterday when he apparently fell asleep while traveling on the Pennsylvania Turnpike and crashed into the back of a tractor-trailer.

Killed was William P. Schick, 34, of Franklin Lakes, N. J., whom Pennsylvania State Police said died of a crushed chest and internal injuries. Both feet were also cut off in the accident, police said.

Schick rammed into the back of a tractor rig being operated by Frank A. Gnarra of Monaca, Pa., who escaped injury. Damage to Schick's rig, owned by the Thomas Electronics Company of Passaic, N. J., was estimated at $6,000, while Gnarra's trailer and cargo suffered an estimated damage of $2,200.

Secrets Of Charm

Cabbage's Vitamin C

Although no one heard of the word "vitamin" until this century, vitamin C has been known for over 200 years. This is one of the vitamins that can't be stored in the body. You have to eat or drink a fresh supply each day.

Too many people think only of oranges for their daily diet when there are other foods rich in vitamin C. The cabbage can hold its head high for being in this society. The nutritionists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture tell us that cabbage should be rated right along with those aristocrats of the diet — oranges, tomatoes and other foods rich in vitamin C. Its price, though, is the least aristocratic of the bunch.

Vitamin C is necessary to build healthy teeth and gums. It is also necessary for healthy muscles, red blood, and a good appetite. The best sources of this very essential vitamin are:

Vegetables: raw, quick-cooked, commercially canned, leafy green and yellow — also green peppers.

Potatoes: white, cooked in jackets.

Certain vitamins are found in many natural foods, in varying degrees, but some foods are richer in these important nutrients than others and that is what we are interested in.

MONDAY: Summer Is a Figure Menace!

YOUR BEAUTY DIET—Whether you want to gain, lose or remain the same—YOUR BEAUTY DIET will provide you with a pattern of safe, laboratory-tested menus that can be followed by the entire family according to each individual's needs. YOUR BEAUTY DIET is a way of eating, not starving. Write to Secrets of Charm, in care of this paper and enclose 10c in coin, plus stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Cabbage's Vitamin C

Although no one heard of the word "vitamin" until this century, vitamin C has been known for over 200 years. This is one of the vitamins that can't be stored in the body. You have to eat or drink a fresh supply each day.

Too many people think only of oranges for their daily diet when there are other foods rich in vitamin C. The cabbage can hold its head high for being in this society. The nutritionists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture tell us that cabbage should be rated right along with those aristocrats of the diet — oranges, tomatoes and other foods rich in vitamin C. Its price, though, is the least aristocratic of the bunch.

Vitamin C is necessary to build healthy teeth and gums. It is also necessary for healthy muscles, red blood, and a good appetite. The best sources of this very essential vitamin are:

Vegetables: raw, quick-cooked, commercially canned, leafy green and yellow — also green peppers.

Fruits: citrus, melons, berries, pears and apples.

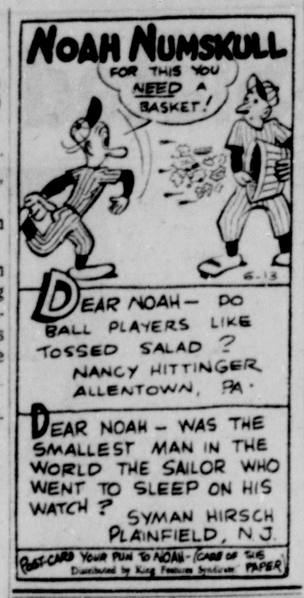

Potatoes: white, cooked in jackets.

Certain vitamins are found in many natural foods, in varying degrees, but some foods are richer in these important nutrients than others and that is what we are interested in.

YOUR BEAUTY DIET—Whether you want to gain, lose or remain the same—YOUR BEAUTY DIET will provide you with a pattern of safe, laboratory-tested menus that can be followed by the entire family according to each individual's needs. YOUR BEAUTY DIET is a way of eating, not starving. Write to Secrets of Charm, in care of this paper and enclose 10c in coin, plus stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Trucker Killed On Turnpike

A New Jersey truck driver was killed early yesterday when he apparently fell asleep while traveling on the Pennsylvania Turnpike and crashed into the back of a tractor-trailer.

Killed was William P. Schick, 34, of Franklin Lakes, N. J., whom Pennsylvania State Police said died of a crushed chest and internal injuries. Both feet were also cut off in the accident, police said.

Schick rammed into the back of a tractor rig being operated by Frank A. Gnarra of Monaca, Pa., who escaped injury. Damage to Schick's rig, owned by the Thomas Electronics Company of Passaic, N. J., was estimated at $6,000, while Gnarra's trailer and cargo suffered an estimated damage of $2,200.

M., May 27, 1959) and remaining there for a period in excess of one-half (½) hour, the Commissioners report that no property owners appeared to be heard for or against the closing of said portions of streets and alleys, and therefore, the Commissioners present the following:

"That there are no damages or benefits to the owners of the lots binding on the portions of said streets and alleys or any other lots in the vicinity.

That there are equal benefits from the closing of said streets and alleys to the owners of lots abutting thereon and that said benefits to be derived by said owners are dependent upon the future use of said property by the owners, or their heirs and assigns which they may acquire as the abutting property owners by the closing of said streets and alleys."

Any person, persons, firm or corporation feeling aggrieved by the decision of the Commissioners may appeal therefrom within thirty (30) days after June 1, 1959, and filing written notice of such appeal with the City Clerk of the City of Cumberland, Maryland, who will transmit same to the Circuit Court for Allegany County to be docketed for jury trial.

NOTICE

Pursuant to the provisions of Section 127 of the Charter of the City of Cumberland, Maryland, (1950 Edition), notice is hereby given that the Mayor and City Council of Cumberland die, in regular session Monday, June 1, 1959, approve the Report of Commissioners for the closing of portions of the following streets and alleys; Glenwood Street from Oldtown Road to Hemlock Alley; Gay Street from Oldtown Road to the easterly side of Hemlock Alley; Lamont Street from Cresap Street to Thomas Street; Grape Alley from Oldtown Road to Hemlock Alley; Rolling Mill Alley from Oldtown Road to Hemlock Alley; Hemlock Alley from Cresap Street to Thomas Street; Rosewood Alley from Cresap Street to Thomas Street; Black's Alley from Cresap Street to Thomas Street; an Unnamed Alley lying parallel with an equidistant between Gay Street and Rolling Mill Alley from Black Alley to Hemlock Alley; an Unnamed Alley lying parallel with and 68 feet distant from Gay Street from Hemlock Alley in a southwesterly direction for approximately 56.64 feet, all located in Black's Addition to Cumberland.

After meeting on the premises (10:30 A. M., May 27, 1959) and remaining there for a period in excess of one-half (½) hour, the Commissioners report that no property owners appeared to be heard for or against the closing of said portions of streets and alleys, and therefore, the Commissioners present the following:

That there are equal benefits from the closing of said streets and alleys to the owners of lots abutting thereon and that said benefits to be derived by said owners are dependent upon the future use of said property by the owners, or their heirs and assigns which they may acquire as the abutting property owners by the closing of said streets and alleys."

Any person, persons, firm or corporation feeling aggrieved by the decision of the Commissioners may appeal therefrom within thirty (30) days after June 1, 1959, and filing written notice of such appeal with the City Clerk of the City of Cumberland, Maryland, who will transmit same to the Circuit Court for Allegany County to be docketed for jury trial.

County Receives $38,422 From Liquor License Sale

Funds were received yesterday by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners from alcoholic beverage licenses sold by the county during April and May.

The county board will get $38,422 of the $63,350 realized from the license sales.

The various communities in the county will be allocated part of the license money as follows: Cumberland, $16,796; Frostburg, $3,952; Lonaconing, $1,195; Midland, $447.50; Barton, $946.50 and Westernport, $1,580.

On another financial matter, the board received a letter from the Cincinnati bonding house of Walter, Woody and Heimerdinger concerning the proposed bond issue of the LaVale Sanitary Commission which will not exceed $50,000.

The Cincinnati firm reminded the board that it bought the $345,000 bond issue of the LaVale agency in 1950 and had a customer for the proposed new issue.

Three collectors of county taxes under the former system submitted reports and checks to the board yesterday for taxes of the past several years which they have collected.

Paul LaRue, who collects in the Frostburg area, listed $1,537.45 in 1958 county taxes, $69.18 interest, and $138.10 in state property taxes. He collected a total of $191.84 for 1957 state and county taxes and interest. The collection of 1955 taxes amounted to $29. Taxes from the Mt. Savage Special Taxing Area for 1958 which he collected totaled $12.08 and $2.28 for 1957 taxes which had been unpaid.

J. Wallace Close, collector at the Court House, listed $6,059.43 for 1958 county taxes, $264.99 interest and $535.50 in state taxes. He collected $2,174.84 for 1957 taxes which had not been paid.

James Holmes, collector for the Lonaconing area, listed $1,582.50 for 1958 county taxes, $71.21 interest and $113.18 in state taxes. He collected $841.26 for 1957 taxes.

County Receives $38,422 From Liquor License Sale

Funds were received yesterday by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners from alcoholic beverage licenses sold by the county during April and May.

The county board will get $38,422 of the $63,350 realized from the license sales.

The various communities in the county will be allocated part of the license money as follows: Cumberland, $16,796; Frostburg, $3,952; Lonaconing, $1,195; Midland, $447.50; Barton, $946.50 and Westernport, $1,580.

On another financial matter, the board received a letter from the Cincinnati bonding house of Walter, Woody and Heimerdinger concerning the proposed bond issue of the LaVale Sanitary Commission which will not exceed $50,000.

The Cincinnati firm reminded the board that it bought the $345,000 bond issue of the LaVale agency in 1950 and had a customer for the proposed new issue.

Three collectors of county taxes under the former system submitted reports and checks to the board yesterday for taxes of the past several years which they have collected.

Paul LaRue, who collects in the Frostburg area, listed $1,537.45 in 1958 county taxes, $69.18 interest, and $138.10 in state property taxes. He collected a total of $191.84 for 1957 state and county taxes and interest. The collection of 1955 taxes amounted to $29. Taxes from the Mt. Savage Special Taxing Area for 1958 which he collected totaled $12.08 and $2.28 for 1957 taxes which had been unpaid.

J. Wallace Close, collector at the Court House, listed $6,059.43 for 1958 county taxes, $264.99 interest and $535.50 in state taxes. He collected $2,174.84 for 1957 taxes which had not been paid.

James Holmes, collector for the Lonaconing area, listed $1,582.50 for 1958 county taxes, $71.21 interest and $113.18 in state taxes. He collected $841.26 for 1957 taxes.

Youth Ordered Held For Jury In Mine Theft

Bond Set At $500 For Richard Perry

Richard Hugh Perry, 18, of Pompey, yesterday was ordered held for action of the October grand jury on a charge of breaking and entering.

Perry was given a preliminary hearing yesterday afternoon in Trial Magistrate Court before Magistrate F. Allan Weatherholt who ordered him held under $500 bond for the October term of court. He was committed to the County Jail.

Perry was arrested Tuesday by county authorities in connection with a series of thefts from mines in the Midland area. He has been charged with breaking and entering the storage building of Jenkins Mine at Midland on February 23 and taking equipment valued at $167.50.

Some of the equipment, which included a 52-gallon drum of oil, two cans of grease, two hand pumps, two batteries and four gallons of anti-freeze, has been recovered by Tfc. Milton C. Hart and Deputy Sheriff William E. Orr Jr.

Deputy Orr said earlier this week the oil drum which was taken from the mine last February was found cached in the woods at Pompey, near Vale Summit. Cans containing lubricating and diesel oil also were found in the woods, authorities said.

The case against Perry was presented in court yesterday by County Investigator Edwin R. Lilya, who also is assisting with the investigation.

County authorities are continuing the investigation of the theft of a quantity of material including a heavy portable power plant, an acetylene torch, a hydraulic jack, oil filters and tools which were taken from a strip mine operation near Barton last week. All of the material has been recovered.

Hyndman Man Dies Of Bullet Wound In Head

Walter Deneen, about 39, of Hyndman, Pa. died last night in Sacred Heart Hospital from a .22 calibre bullet wound in the head.

Police Chief Paul Wise of Hyndman, who made the initial investigation, indicated the man died as a result of an accident.

Wise said he had been talking with the victim earlier in the day and he was in "good spirits." The man was found slumped on a davenport in the living room of his house by his wife, Betty. The man was reported alone at the time of the shooting.

Chief Wise said the shooting occurred about 9:15 p. m. and the victim was pronounced dead at 10:15 p. m. at the local hospital about 15 minutes after arriving there in the ambulance of the Hyndman Volunteer Fire Company.

The deputy county medical examiner's office here said last night that an investigation into the fatal shooting will be continued.

The fire chief of the company, Clyde Bingham, was the first to be notified by the man's wife.

The victim was a veteran of World War II and was reported to have had a series of operations on his lungs in recent years, the police chief said.

Besides his wife, he is survived by a daughter.

Prior to enlisting he attended Frostburg State Teachers College. He is a 1958 graduate of LaSalle High School and had served as a Navy reservist since October 1957 at the local unit on McKaig's Hill.

Youth Is Fined On Motor Counts

Richard L. Cross Jr., 20, of RFD 3, city, was fined $127.90 yesterday in Trial Magistrate Court on two motor vehicle charges in connection with a hit-and-run accident early Sunday morning on Long Hill.

Cross was arrested by City Police Officer Joseph Harvey after a pickup had been issued by the Maryland State Police. State Police issued the call for Cross after he struck a car operated by Glenn R. Twigg, 19, of this city. The Twigg youth sustained lacerations to his arm and was treated at Memorial Hospital.

$5 Million Gas Lines Approved

WASHINGTON (AP)—Manufacturers Light and Heat Co., Pittsburgh, Friday received authority from the Power Commission to build and operate $5,380,000 worth of natural gas pipeline facilities in Southern Pennsylvania.

The company also was authorized to abandon five parallel 6-inch lines in Fulton and Bedford counties, which will be replaced by the new facilities.

Manufacturers was given temporary permission in April to construct the new facilities for which a certificate was issued Friday.

Lab Will Be Moved Into Filter Unit

Savings In Heat And Power Slated

The laboratory which guards the purity of the city's water supply will be moved into the Lake Gordon filtration plant next week.

The consolidation of facilities was suggested by Franklin J. Blaney, assistant city engineer, and approved by G. Ray Light, commissioner of water and electric light.

Mr. Blaney said the laboratory is now located in a barn which stands about 500 feet from the filter plant. It will be moved to quarters on the second floor of the filter building, a few steps from Mr. Blaney's office.

The consolidation will enable the Water Department to stop heating the large barn and to route all power lines through one meter.

The change will mean a substantial saving on heat and electricity, Mr. Blaney said, and at the same time increase the efficiency of the plant.

It will also eliminate the necessity of providing janitor services at the barn.

The barn is adjacent to the plant's machine shop and plans are being made to move all equipment into the barn.

At present, trucks and other equipment used on the watershed are stored in maintenance buildings located up to 1,000 feet from the maintenance building.

Locating the laboratory in the filter building itself will enable the laboratory technician, Miss Shirley Mortzfeldt, to collect samples for analysis which were formerly carried to the laboratory by plant operators.

The switch will require only the transfer of present laboratory equipment, as all other facilities are available in the filter plant office.

High Hide Prices Affect Tannery

Rising prices for hides halted work at the Parsons tannery this week.

A. M. Schenley, superintendent, said the processing of hides at the tannery was suspended for an indefinite period.

Hide prices, he said, have more than doubled since the first of the year and this, with rising production costs, makes the tanning of sole leather highly unprofitable at today's sole leather prices.

He said the plant, operated by Armour Leather Company, will resume soaking of hides as soon as conditions warrant.

Tax Collector Adds Visits To Area Towns

Commissioners Grant Additions

A revised state and county tax collection schedule calling for three additional visits to Frostburg, two more to Lonaconing and another stop at Westernport was approved yesterday by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners.

County Tax Collector William B. Orndorff said last night there will be additional all-day visits to Frostburg on June 15, 16 and 23, stops at Lonaconing on June 17 and 18 and at Westernport on June 19.

The commissioners also appointed three additional temporary employes for the tax collector's office during this period when most of the payments are being received. Traditionally, about 80 to 85 per cent of the tax collections are received during June when a five per cent discount is allowed on the county taxes.

The new temporary employes are Fred Sharer, 1900 Bedford Street; Robert Dawson, 117 Paca Street, and Mrs. Anna Whinnie, 711 Greene Street.

Mr. Orndorff said last night there also will be additional visits to Frostburg, Lonaconing and Westernport during July and August when a discount still is allowed on county taxes.

The collector reminded taxpayers that it is not necessary to wait until the traveling collectors visit their community. Checks may be mailed to the collector's office at the Court House or the taxpayers may come to the Court House at some convenient time and make their payments in person.

Yesterday, Isaac J. Smith, Mr. Orndorff's assistant, collected taxes in Mt. Savage and Flintstone. Nearly $5,300 was received at Mt. Savage but only a little over $1,000 at Flintstone.

The new revised tax collection itinerary for next week: Monday, June 15 — Frostburg Fire Hall, 9:30 a.m. until 4 p.m.; Tuesday, June 16 — Frostburg Fire Hall, 9:30 a.m. until 4 p.m.; Lonaconing Fire Hall, 10 a.m. until 3:30 p.m.; Wednesday, June 17 — Lonaconing Fire Hall, 10 a.m. until 3:30 p.m.; Midland Fire Hall, 10 a.m. until noon; Barton Town Hall, 1 until 3 p.m.; Thursday, June 18 — Lonaconing Fire Hall, 10 a.m. until 3:30 p.m.; Westernport Town Hall, 10 a.m. until 3:30 p.m.; Friday, June 19 — Westernport Town Hall, 10 a.m. until 3:30 p.m.; Flintstone Fire Hall, 10 a.m. until noon; Mt. Savage trial magistrate's office, 1:30 until 4 p.m.

She said any glass container which will be suitable for canned goods, jams or jellies can be used.

The CUF agency is also interested in getting any repairable toys which can be used this Christmas.

Miss Bonig said it is desirable to get the toys while there is time to put them in good condition.

The repair and painting of the toys provides work for some of the persons aided by the CUF agency.

Light Airplane Missing In Panhandle Of W.Va.

A small, private airplane en route from Pittsburgh to Baltimore, and last seen about noon yesterday over the Martinsburg, W. Va., area, was reported missing last night by the Civil Air Patrol at Charleston, W. Va.

The plane was reported to have landed safely at Deep Creek, but a check with landing fields at McHenry and Turkey Neck areas disclosed that no private plane had landed at either place yesterday.

Late last night, the Federal Aeronautics Administration said the plane had landed safely at Deep Creek Airport at Shadyside, Anne Arundel County, near Annapolis.

Maryland State Police at LaVale last night received a teletype from headquarters at Pikesville notifying them to be on the lookout for a single-engine plane which was overdue at Friendship Airport near Baltimore.

Authorities said the plane was due in Baltimore at 3 p. m. The CAP said the plane, whose pilot was tentatively identified only as R. Hough of Bridgeville, Pa., last reported to the Martinsburg airport at noon an hour after leaving Allegheny Airport at Pittsburgh.

Another airplane, described as having two engines, was reported in apparent trouble over the Petersburg, W. Va., area yesterday about 6:30 p. m.

Cpl. G. H. Phillips of the State Police there said the plane circled the town and headed in the direction of Elkins.

Comptroller Goldstein Makes Whirlwind Visit

By ALBERT D. DARBY JR.
News Staff Writer

A whirlwind named State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein swept through the Allegany County Court House during an hour-long visit yesterday in which he visited three different offices, conferred briefly with the county commissioners, and shook at least 50 hands.

Attaches said they could not remember when a State Comptroller ever had visited the Court House before. Mr. Goldstein said he was striving to keep a promise to visit all 23 Maryland court houses before July 1.

Allegany County was the 14th on his list. Earlier yesterday he had stopped at Frederick and Hagerstown. Previously he had been to six of the Eastern Shore county seats and all five court houses in his home area of Southern Maryland.

Headed For Oakland

When he left the Court House here yesterday he was headed for Garrett County, where he will visit the Court House at Oakland. From that western extremity he will head back to the state's other extreme, planning to spend tonight in Ocean City.

The biggest news of his visit to Cumberland was made while he was seated on a bench at the rear of the Court House's main corridor with County Commissioners John J. Rowan and William A. Wilson. Commission President Rowan explained that he and the other commissioners had decided that the money being collected now for 1959-60 taxes would not be spent by any county departments during this final month of the fiscal year.

That is providing some squeeze on the county's finances and the commissioners wondered if they might be able to get some state funds this month. Mr. Goldstein said that the checks to Baltimore City, the 23 counties and more than 100 subdivisions for state income tax payments will be mailed out late next week. He did not recall exactly how much Allegany County will get but it is in the neighborhood of $200,000.

Index Problem

From the corridor, Mr. Goldstein was led into the office of Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Circuit Court. He was shown deed, mortgage and judgment indexes in the record room which need rebinding. In many cases, it is planned to divide certain letters of the alphabet into two volums of indexes for ease in handling. The comptroller had questioned earlier the low bid of about $13,000 for this work. After seeing the need he indicated that the expenditure appeared justified and that he will approve it.

Also visited at the Court House was the office of Register of Wills A. Charles Stewart. About 60 volumes there need rebinding and the Comptroller again said he felt that expenditure justified.

Before the fast moving and fast talking official left the Court House he also was taken to the office of Tax Collector William B. Orndorff by his unofficial escorts, Leslie J. Clark and Peter J. Carpenti, local attorneys. That probably was so he could meet some Democrats because that is the only departmental office manned primarily by Democrats.

Then it was on to Garrett County for the man from Calvert County, Maryland's nearest thing to perpetual motion.

500-Mile Race Is Successful

The Captain J. J. McAtee Memorial trophy 500-mile race of the Allegany Racing Pigeon Club proved to be the most successful race of that distance of the past four years.

Eight lofts officially reported 16 birds home the first day and another 20 were unofficially reported to have homed. Eleven lofts with 108 pigeons competed. The birds were liberated at Vincennes, Ind., at 6:30 a. m. and the winner clocked home at 6:15 p. m.

Dale's Pal from Tinkers Loft of Albertus Llewellyn was the winner, averaging 1,150.52 yards per minute.

Others in the top ten were: Adair, Town View Loft of Galen Beeman, 1,148.54 yards per minute; Glider from the Lost Loft of Dudley Shafer, 1,144.42 yards per minute; Dale Junior, also from Tinkers Loft, 1,142.74 yards per minute; Roxanne, Woodland Loft of Irvin Buskirk, 1,132.50 yards per minute; 2005 from Gilmore Loft of A. A. Ambrose, 1,116.73 yards per minute; Sandy's Pal, Town View Loft, 1,111.21 yards per minute; Margaret S. MacArthur Loft of C. A. Smith, 1,106.35 yards per minute; 2022 from Gilmore Loft, 1,093.97 yards per minute, and Elsie, Woodland Loft, 1,093.69 yards per minute.

The next race will be a 400-mile event from North Vernon, Ind.

Local Boy Swallows Lath Nail

Charles Lease, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Lease, 624 North Mechanic Street, is a patient in Sacred Heart Hospital where he was admitted Thursday after he swallowed a small lath nail while playing at his home.

X-rays taken yesterday at the hospital disclosed that the nail had worked its way to the child's lower intestine. Attaches said last night the lad is getting along "just fine."

His father, who is a pipeman in the Cumberland Fire Department, said he was at home on Thursday doing some painting and his son followed him down to the cellar.

He asked his dad for some nails and they were given to him to be driven into a board.

Later while he was playing with two sisters nearby, the boy swallowed one of the nails and began gagging. He was then taken to the local hospital.

$2,566 Cost For Dog Law Operation

Allegany County's dog law has not reached the point of being self-sustaining, but it cost only $2,566.74 for the first 11 months of the fiscal year which ends June 30.

Mrs. Johanna N. Sills, the county auditor, said that the sale of dog licenses through May 31 totaled $7,652.70. Commissions of 25 cents for each license sold outside of the Court House and bounties paid for sheep killed by dogs have taken $1,569.95 of that amount, leaving a balance of $6,082.75 from the license sale.

At the beginning of last fiscal year July 1, a budget of $8,900 was established for the salaries and expenses of the two dog wardens. In the first 11 months of the fiscal year, $8,649.49 has been spent, leaving a $250.51 balance.

Sale of the new dog licenses for 1959-60 already has begun. They cost $1 for males and spayed females and $2 for females. A good many people are buying their dog licenses at the Court House while visiting the office of Tax Collector William B. Orndorff for payment of state and county real estate taxes.

Services for two young Hyndman, Pa., residents, who were killed early yesterday morning in a one-car accident at the bottom of Long Hill on Baltimore Avenue, will be conducted Monday at the Zeigler Funeral Home in Hyndman.

Killed in the accident were Robert James Shaffer, 22, and Charles Edgar Hyre, 20. They were passengers in a car operated by Ronald Ray Jamison, 21, also of Hyndman, who is a patient in Memorial Hospital.

Services for the Hyre youth will be conducted at the funeral home Monday at 11 a. m. by Rev. Earl Harper, pastor of the Hyndman Church of the Brethren, and Rev. John Buffenmyer, pastor of the Glendale Church of the Brethren at Flintstone. Burial will be in Hyndman Cemetery.

Services for the Shaffer youth will be conducted at the funeral home at 2 p. m. Monday. Rev. Willard M. White, pastor of Hyndman Methodist Church, will officiate and burial will be in the Hyndman Cemetery.

Car Strikes Pole

Lt. Donald H. Smith of the City Police, who conducted the investigation, said Jamison was traveling east on the highway at a high rate of speed. Jamison failed to negotiate a left turn onto Long Hill, collided with a metal pole that carried a neon sign and then rammed into a telephone pole.

The force of the impact spun the car around and down over an embankment. The highway is 42 feet wide at the bottom of the hill, Lt. Smith said, which should have given the driver enough room to negotiate the curve unless he lost control of his vehicle.

Hyre, who was seated on the right side of the front seat, was thrown from the car. Shaffer was seated between the driver and Hyre. Both of the victims suffered severe head injuries.

Attaches said Jamison was unconscious when admitted. He is reported in "fair" condition, with lacerations of the face, head and hands.

Assisting in the investigation were City Officers Carl Bennett and P. C. Jenkins and Detective Donald Boggs, and State Troopers J. W. McFarland and G. R. Robinette.

Assisting at the scene was Sgt. Robert L. Gilpin who was off duty at the time of the accident.

Lt. Smith said the windshield of the car, which is registered to Charles T. Kraynak Jr., of Hyndman, was thrown 74 feet, while other debris was scattered over a large area. Kraynak is the stepfather of Jamison.

Hyre Only Child

Hyre was born in Cumberland, a son of Casper S. and Audrey (Miller) Hyre, Hyndman. He was their only child and had served in the Marine Corps. He held membership in Hyndman Church of the Brethren.

Shaffer was born in Hyndman, a son of Claude B. and Nellie (Bruck) Shaffer. He had been employed by a Hyndman cleaning establishment, had served in the Navy and was a member of the Methodist Church.

Surviving, besides his parents, are seven brothers, Earl B., Stephen C., Claude H., John L., Richard P., Douglas R. and Glen E. Shaffer, all at home, and five sisters, Misses Wanda M., Joyce E. and Martha J. Shaffer, all at home; Mrs. Mona L. DeVries, Washington, and Mrs. Betty Ours, Chicago.

Youth Ordered Held For Jury In Mine Theft

Bond Set At $500 For Richard Perry

Richard Hugh Perry, 18, of Pompey, yesterday was ordered held for action of the October grand jury on a charge of breaking and entering.

Perry was given a preliminary hearing yesterday afternoon in Trial Magistrate Court before Magistrate F. Allan Weatherholt who ordered him held under $500 bond for the October term of court. He was committed to the County Jail.

Perry was arrested Tuesday by county authorities in connection with a series of thefts from mines in the Midland area. He has been charged with breaking and entering the storage building of Jenkins Mine at Midland on February 23 and taking equipment valued at $167.50.

Some of the equipment, which included a 52-gallon drum of oil, two cans of grease, two hand pumps, two batteries and four gallons of anti-freeze, has been recovered by Tfc. Milton C. Hart and Deputy Sheriff William E. Orr Jr.

Deputy Orr said earlier this week the oil drum which was taken from the mine last February was found cached in the woods at Pompey, near Vale Summit. Cans containing lubricating and diesel oil also were found in the woods, authorities said.

The case against Perry was presented in court yesterday by County Investigator Edwin R. Lilya, who also is assisting with the investigation.

County authorities are continuing the investigation of the theft of a quantity of material including a heavy portable power plant, an acetylene torch, a hydraulic jack, oil filters and tools which were taken from a strip mine operation near Barton last week. All of the material has been recovered.

Hyndman Man Dies Of Bullet Wound In Head

Walter Deneen, about 39, of Hyndman, Pa. died last night in Sacred Heart Hospital from a .22 calibre bullet wound in the head.

Police Chief Paul Wise of Hyndman, who made the initial investigation, indicated the man died as a result of an accident.

Wise said he had been talking with the victim earlier in the day and he was in "good spirits." The man was found slumped on a davenport in the living room of his house by his wife, Betty. The man was reported alone at the time of the shooting.

Chief Wise said the shooting occurred about 9:15 p. m. and the victim was pronounced dead at 10:15 p. m. at the local hospital about 15 minutes after arriving there in the ambulance of the Hyndman Volunteer Fire Company.

The deputy county medical examiner's office here said last night that an investigation into the fatal shooting will be continued.

The fire chief of the company, Clyde Bingham, was the first to be notified by the man's wife.

The victim was a veteran of World War II and was reported to have had a series of operations on his lungs in recent years, the police chief said.

Besides his wife, he is survived by a daughter.

Lab Will Be Moved Into Filter Unit

Savings In Heat And Power Slated

The laboratory which guards the purity of the city's water supply will be moved into the Lake Gordon filtration plant next week.

The consolidation of facilities was suggested by Franklin J. Blaney, assistant city engineer, and approved by G. Ray Light, commissioner of water and electric light.

Mr. Blaney said the laboratory is now located in a barn which stands about 500 feet from the filter plant. It will be moved to quarters on the second floor of the filter building, a few steps from Mr. Blaney's office.

The consolidation will enable the Water Department to stop heating the large barn and to route all power lines through one meter.

The change will mean a substantial saving on heat and electricity, Mr. Blaney said, and at the same time increase the efficiency of the plant.

It will also eliminate the necessity of providing janitor services at the barn.

The barn is adjacent to the plant's machine shop and plans are being made to move all equipment into the barn.

At present, trucks and other equipment used on the watershed are stored in maintenance buildings located up to 1,000 feet from the maintenance building.

Locating the laboratory in the filter building itself will enable the laboratory technician, Miss Shirley Mortzfeldt, to collect samples for analysis which were formerly carried to the laboratory by plant operators.

The switch will require only the transfer of present laboratory equipment, as all other facilities are available in the filter plant office.

High Hide Prices Affect Tannery

Rising prices for hides halted work at the Parsons tannery this week.

A. M. Schenley, superintendent, said the processing of hides at the tannery was suspended for an indefinite period.

Hide prices, he said, have more than doubled since the first of the year and this, with rising production costs, makes the tanning of sole leather highly unprofitable at today's sole leather prices.

He said the plant, operated by Armour Leather Company, will resume soaking of hides as soon as conditions warrant.

Youth Is Fined On Motor Counts

Richard L. Cross Jr., 20, of RFD 3, city, was fined $127.90 yesterday in Trial Magistrate Court on two motor vehicle charges in connection with a hit-and-run accident early Sunday morning on Long Hill.

Magistrate Peter J. Carpenti fined Cross $101.45 for failure to stop after a personal injury accident, and $26.45 for reckless driving.

Cross was arrested by City Police Officer Joseph Harvey after a pickup had been issued by the Maryland State Police. State Police issued the call for Cross after he struck a car operated by Glenn R. Twigg, 19, of this city. The Twigg youth sustained lacerations to his arm and was treated at Memorial Hospital.

Tax Collector Adds Visits To Area Towns

Commissioners Grant Additions

A revised state and county tax collection schedule calling for three additional visits to Frostburg, two more to Lonaconing and another stop at Westernport was approved yesterday by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners.

County Tax Collector William B. Orndorff said last night there will be additional all-day visits to Frostburg on June 15, 16 and 23, stops at Lonaconing on June 17 and 18 and at Westernport on June 19.

The commissioners also appointed three additional temporary employes for the tax collector's office during this period when most of the payments are being received. Traditionally, about 80 to 85 per cent of the tax collections are received during June when a five per cent discount is allowed on the county taxes.

The new temporary employes are Fred Sharer, 1900 Bedford Street; Robert Dawson, 117 Paca Street, and Mrs. Anna Whinnie, 711 Greene Street.

Mr. Orndorff said last night there also will be additional visits to Frostburg, Lonaconing and Westernport during July and August when a discount still is allowed on county taxes.

The collector reminded taxpayers that it is not necessary to wait until the traveling collectors visit their community. Checks may be mailed to the collector's office at the Court House or the taxpayers may come to the Court House at some convenient time and make their payments in person.

Yesterday, Isaac J. Smith, Mr. Orndorff's assistant, collected taxes in Mt. Savage and Flintstone. Nearly $5,300 was received at Mt. Savage but only a little over $1,000 at Flintstone.

The new revised tax collection itinerary for next week: Monday, June 15 — Frostburg Fire Hall, 9:30 a.m. until 4 p.m.; Tuesday, June 16 — Frostburg Fire Hall, 9:30 a.m. until 4 p.m.; Lonaconing Fire Hall, 10 a.m. until 3:30 p.m.; Wednesday, June 17 — Lonaconing Fire Hall, 10 a.m. until 3:30 p.m.; Midland Fire Hall, 10 a.m. until noon; Barton Town Hall, 1 until 3 p.m.; Thursday, June 18 — Lonaconing Fire Hall, 10 a.m. until 3:30 p.m.; Westernport Town Hall, 10 a.m. until 3:30 p.m.; Friday, June 19 — Westernport Town Hall, 10 a.m. until 3:30 p.m.; Flintstone Fire Hall, 10 a.m. until noon; Mt. Savage trial magistrate's office, 1:30 until 4 p.m.

She said any glass container which will be suitable for canned goods, jams or jellies can be used.

The CUF agency is also interested in getting any repairable toys which can be used this Christmas.

Miss Bonig said it is desirable to get the toys while there is time to put them in good condition.

Light Airplane Missing In Panhandle Of W.Va.

A small, private airplane en route from Pittsburgh to Baltimore, and last seen about noon yesterday over the Martinsburg, W. Va., area, was reported missing last night by the Civil Air Patrol at Charleston, W. Va.

The plane was reported to have landed safely at Deep Creek, but a check with landing fields at McHenry and Turkey Neck areas disclosed that no private plane had landed at either place yesterday.

Late last night, the Federal Aeronautics Administration said the plane had landed safely at Deep Creek Airport at Shadyside, Anne Arundel County, near Annapolis.

Maryland State Police at LaVale last night received a teletype from headquarters at Pikesville notifying them to be on the lookout for a single-engine plane which was overdue at Friendship Airport near Baltimore.

Authorities said the plane was due in Baltimore at 3 p. m. The CAP said the plane, whose pilot was tentatively identified only as R. Hough of Bridgeville, Pa., last reported to the Martinsburg airport at noon an hour after leaving Allegheny Airport at Pittsburgh.

Another airplane, described as having two engines, was reported in apparent trouble over the Petersburg, W. Va., area yesterday about 6:30 p. m.

Cpl. G. H. Phillips of the State Police there said the plane circled the town and headed in the direction of Elkins.

Comptroller Goldstein Makes Whirlwind Visit

By ALBERT D. DARBY JR.
News Staff Writer

A whirlwind named State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein swept through the Allegany County Court House during an hour-long visit yesterday in which he visited three different offices, conferred briefly with the county commissioners, and shook at least 50 hands.

Attaches said they could not remember when a State Comptroller ever had visited the Court House before. Mr. Goldstein said he was striving to keep a promise to visit all 23 Maryland court houses before July 1.

Allegany County was the 14th on his list. Earlier yesterday he had stopped at Frederick and Hagerstown. Previously he had been to six of the Eastern Shore county seats and all five court houses in his home area of Southern Maryland.

Headed For Oakland

When he left the Court House here yesterday he was headed for Garrett County, where he will visit the Court House at Oakland. From that western extremity he will head back to the state's other extreme, planning to spend tonight in Ocean City.

The biggest news of his visit to Cumberland was made while he was seated on a bench at the rear of the Court House's main corridor with County Commissioners John J. Rowan and William A. Wilson. Commission President Rowan explained that he and the other commissioners had decided that the money being collected now for 1959-60 taxes would not be spent by any county departments during this final month of the fiscal year.

That is providing some squeeze on the county's finances and the commissioners wondered if they might be able to get some state funds this month. Mr. Goldstein said that the checks to Baltimore City, the 23 counties and more than 100 subdivisions for state income tax payments will be mailed out late next week. He did not recall exactly how much Allegany County will get but it is in the neighborhood of $200,000.

Index Problem

From the corridor, Mr. Goldstein was led into the office of Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Circuit Court. He was shown deed, mortgage and judgment indexes in the record room which need rebinding. In many cases, it is planned to divide certain letters of the alphabet into two volums of indexes for ease in handling. The comptroller had questioned earlier the low bid of about $13,000 for this work. After seeing the need he indicated that the expenditure appeared justified and that he will approve it.

Also visited at the Court House was the office of Register of Wills A. Charles Stewart. About 60 volumes there need rebinding and the Comptroller again said he felt that expenditure justified.

Before the fast moving and fast talking official left the Court House he also was taken to the office of Tax Collector William B. Orndorff by his unofficial escorts, Leslie J. Clark and Peter J. Carpenti, local attorneys. That probably was so he could meet some Democrats because that is the only departmental office manned primarily by Democrats.

Then it was on to Garrett County for the man from Calvert County, Maryland's nearest thing to perpetual motion.

500-Mile Race Is Successful

The Captain J. J. McAtee Memorial trophy 500-mile race of the Allegany Racing Pigeon Club proved to be the most successful race of that distance of the past four years.

Eight lofts officially reported 16 birds home the first day and another 20 were unofficially reported to have homed. Eleven lofts with 108 pigeons competed. The birds were liberated at Vincennes, Ind., at 6:30 a. m. and the winner clocked home at 6:15 p. m.

Dale's Pal from Tinkers Loft of Albertus Llewellyn was the winner, averaging 1,150.52 yards per minute.

Others in the top ten were: Adair, Town View Loft of Galen Beeman, 1,148.54 yards per minute; Glider from the Lost Loft of Dudley Shafer, 1,144.42 yards per minute; Dale Junior, also from Tinkers Loft, 1,142.74 yards per minute; Roxanne, Woodland Loft of Irvin Buskirk, 1,132.50 yards per minute; 2005 from Gilmore Loft of A. A. Ambrose, 1,116.73 yards per minute; Sandy's Pal, Town View Loft, 1,111.21 yards per minute; Margaret S. MacArthur Loft of C. A. Smith, 1,106.35 yards per minute; 2022 from Gilmore Loft, 1,093.97 yards per minute, and Elsie, Woodland Loft, 1,093.69 yards per minute.

The next race will be a 400-mile event from North Vernon, Ind.

Local Boy Swallows Lath Nail

Charles Lease, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Lease, 624 North Mechanic Street, is a patient in Sacred Heart Hospital where he was admitted Thursday after he swallowed a small lath nail while playing at his home.

X-rays taken yesterday at the hospital disclosed that the nail had worked its way to the child's lower intestine. Attaches said last night the lad is getting along "just fine."

His father, who is a pipeman in the Cumberland Fire Department, said he was at home on Thursday doing some painting and his son followed him down to the cellar.

He asked his dad for some nails and they were given to him to be driven into a board.

Later while he was playing with two sisters nearby, the boy swallowed one of the nails and began gagging. He was then taken to the local hospital.

$2,566 Cost For Dog Law Operation

Allegany County's dog law has not reached the point of being self-sustaining, but it cost only $2,566.74 for the first 11 months of the fiscal year which ends June 30.

Mrs. Johanna N. Sills, the county auditor, said that the sale of dog licenses through May 31 totaled $7,652.70. Commissions of 25 cents for each license sold outside of the Court House and bounties paid for sheep killed by dogs have taken $1,569.95 of that amount, leaving a balance of $6,082.75 from the license sale.

At the beginning of last fiscal year July 1, a budget of $8,900 was established for the salaries and expenses of the two dog wardens. In the first 11 months of the fiscal year, $8,649.49 has been spent, leaving a $250.51 balance.

Sale of the new dog licenses for 1959-60 already has begun. They cost $1 for males and spayed females and $2 for females. A good many people are buying their dog licenses at the Court House while visiting the office of Tax Collector William B. Orndorff for payment of state and county real estate taxes.

Services Set For Two Youths Killed In Crash

Accident Occurs On Long Hill

Services for two young Hyndman, Pa., residents, who were killed early yesterday morning in a one-car accident at the bottom of Long Hill on Baltimore Avenue, will be conducted Monday at the Zeigler Funeral Home in Hyndman.

Killed in the accident were Robert James Shaffer, 22, and Charles Edgar Hyre, 20. They were passengers in a car operated by Ronald Ray Jamison, 21, also of Hyndman, who is a patient in Memorial Hospital.

Services for the Hyre youth will be conducted at the funeral home Monday at 11 a. m. by Rev. Earl Harper, pastor of the Hyndman Church of the Brethren, and Rev. John Buffenmyer, pastor of the Glendale Church of the Brethren at Flintstone. Burial will be in Hyndman Cemetery.

Services for the Shaffer youth will be conducted at the funeral home at 2 p. m. Monday. Rev. Willard M. White, pastor of Hyndman Methodist Church, will officiate and burial will be in the Hyndman Cemetery.

Car Strikes Pole

Lt. Donald H. Smith of the City Police, who conducted the investigation, said Jamison was traveling east on the highway at a high rate of speed. Jamison failed to negotiate a left turn onto Long Hill, collided with a metal pole that carried a neon sign and then rammed into a telephone pole.

The force of the impact spun the car around and down over an embankment. The highway is 42 feet wide at the bottom of the hill, Lt. Smith said, which should have given the driver enough room to negotiate the curve unless he lost control of his vehicle.

Hyre, who was seated on the right side of the front seat, was thrown from the car. Shaffer was seated between the driver and Hyre. Both of the victims suffered severe head injuries.

Attaches said Jamison was unconscious when admitted. He is reported in "fair" condition, with lacerations of the face, head and hands.

Assisting in the investigation were City Officers Carl Bennett and P. C. Jenkins and Detective Donald Boggs, and State Troopers J. W. McFarland and G. R. Robinette.

Assisting at the scene was Sgt. Robert L. Gilpin who was off duty at the time of the accident.

Lt. Smith said the windshield of the car, which is registered to Charles T. Kraynak Jr., of Hyndman, was thrown 74 feet, while other debris was scattered over a large area. Kraynak is the stepfather of Jamison.

Hyre Only Child

Hyre was born in Cumberland, a son of Casper S. and Audrey (Miller) Hyre, Hyndman. He was their only child and had served in the Marine Corps. He held membership in Hyndman Church of the Brethren.

Shaffer was born in Hyndman, a son of Claude B. and Nellie (Bruck) Shaffer. He had been employed by a Hyndman cleaning establishment, had served in the Navy and was a member of the Methodist Church.

Surviving, besides his parents, are seven brothers, Earl B., Stephen C., Claude H., John L., Richard P., Douglas R. and Glen E. Shaffer, all at home, and five sisters, Misses Wanda M., Joyce E. and Martha J. Shaffer, all at home; Mrs. Mona L. DeVries, Washington, and Mrs. Betty Ours, Chicago.
